PROTEST SALE OF AUDITORIUM

Contractors Who Constructed Carthage Community House and Another Creditor in Court

AN AGREEMENT IS EXPECTED

Expected to File Petition in Court Demanding Receiver Collect Outstanding Pledges

The Carthage Auditorium Association's affairs were supposed to have been settled Tuesday when R. E. Henley, receiver, sold the building to J. F. Tweedy for $7,500, but today the Pan American Bridge Company by their attorney, D. L. Smith, and Maul and Whitely, contractors, by their attorney, C. W. Duncan, were in court in an effort to have the sale set aside.

The attorneys and those interested in the case were present all day in the court room, and it was expected that some kind of an agreement would be reached between the parties concerned.

The two companies had claims against the association, and the total amount of liens against the building, including the one of Mr. Tweedy, the purchaser, were said to amount to nearly $21,000.

The two companies were basing their demands on the grounds that the sale of the building was not advertised legally. It was appraised at $7,500 and was sold for this same amount, Mr. Tweedy being the purchaser.

The two companies also will likely file a petition with the court, demanding that Mr. Henley, receiver, collect the outstanding pledges on the building which amount to approximately $4,000, provided that the sale is ordered set aside.

George H. Mesling has filed suit against the trustees of the Little Flatrock Christian church, and Morris Winship, contractor. The suit is to foreclose a lien and for personal judgment, in which $385.62 is demanded. The complaint states that Mesling was allowed a sub-contract, and the amount is due him from Mr. Winship, the general contractor.

Ethel Rodgers, after 16 years of married life, has filed suit for divorce from Joseph Rodgers, alleging cruel and inhuman treatment, and asserting that he was an habitual drunkard, and struck at her and on one occasion kicked her. She also asks the custody of their two children.

William L. Newbold has filed suit against Austen Hyatt on a note, which dates back to 1913, and $228 judgment is demanded.

ARE EXPECTED AT MATTICE

Naval Balloonists May Reach Canadian Outpost by Nightfall

Cochrane, Ontario, Jan. 8.—Expectancy that the three weather-buffed naval balloonists from Rockaway, N. Y., would emerge before nightfall from the snowy wilderness that has enfolded them since they dropped to earth December 14, near the Moose Factory trading station, prevailed this outpost of civilization today.

Whether the trio, Lieutenants A. L. Koor, Jr.; Walter Hinton and Stephen Farrell would end their perilous adventure at the Missinabi river trail's end at Mattice, 110 miles west of here, or at Clute, only a few miles away, still was unknown. But the majority of the little army of newspaper men photographers and Canadian mounted police sent out to meet them are staking their hopes on Mattice and have set out for that town, leaving Cochrane almost deserted.

COAL PRICES SLUMP

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 8.—Coal prices started to fall here today and Monday is expected to see a general slump, according to dealers here. One of the largest coal retailers announced a reduction from $1 to $2 effective today.

SILLO DEBATE IS POSTPONED

Bad Weather Cuts Attendance at Richland Farmers Meeting

On account of the inclemency of the weather, the attendance at the meeting of the Richland Township Farmers association Friday night was small, and the debate on the question as to whether the silo pays as an investment was postponed until a week from last night when it is hoped that the weather will not interfere. The meeting was held at the Butler school house.

There were several visitors from Decatur county present and they all spoke describing what was being accomplished by their association. The fertilizer question was also discussed at some length. Howard F. Ewbank secretary of the county association, represented that organization at the meeting.

ONLY CERTAINTIES IN HARDING'S SLATE

George Christian Will be Secretary to President and Daugherty Will be "Colonel House"

CABINET IDEAS CONFUSED

Marion, Ohio, Jan. 8.—Two final decisions have been made by President-elect Harding, it was learned in authoritative quarters here today:

1—George Christian, Jr., of Marion, will be secretary to the president.

2—Harry M. Daugherty, Columbus, will be the "Colonel House" of Harding's administration.

These are only two certainties standing out from the confusion which surrounds the cabinet situation today. Harding apparently is farther from final decision on his cabinet now than at any time recently.

The slate was virtually settled two weeks ago and all but a few posts were filled. But influences now bearing down on him with full strength, financial, economic, racial and geographical, have undone his selections and he now appears uncertain as to what to do.

Harry M. Daugherty is still expected to go into the cabinet regardless of opposition which is being manifested. He is expected to become attorney general if he enters the cabinet. He is in business with a leading law firm in Columbus, although he has not done much court work in recent years.

ATTENDANCE OF 250 AT MILROY INSTITUTE

Last of Series Under Auspices of Purdue Extension Department is Held Friday

NEW OFFICERS ARE ELECTED

An attendance of two hundred and fifty persons marked the last of the farmers' institutes under the auspices of the Purdue extension department, which was held at Milroy Friday. The program, which included addresses by Miss Ethelwyn Miller of Franklin and W. H. Senour of Brookville, was held in the school building.

Thirty dollars in cash prizes were offered in the corn show, but the awards were not announced today and will not be definitely known until Monday, officers of the institute stated. The show was open to farmers of Anderson, Orange and Richland townships.

Ray Shelby was elected chairman of the institute organization, succeeding Hubert Innis, and Dolph W. Crane was selected as vice-chairman; Jacob Brown, secretary, and Alex Innis, treasurer. Mrs. George Senour was chosen chairman of the women's division and named a committee of five to assist her.

"Soil Efficiency" and "Mutually Helpful" were the subjects discussed in an entertaining way by Mr. Senour, and Miss Miller's topics for the morning and afternoon session were "Kitchen Arrangements" and "The School Girl's Clothing".

LOCAL POSTOFFICE SETS A NEW RECORD

Business During 1920 Amounts to $22,350, Which is Largest by $2,000 in History

RECEIPTS ONCE GREATER

During War Three-Cent Postage Brought in Greater Revenue Was Extra Penny War Tax

The Rushville postoffice enjoyed the best year's business in its history during 1920, according to Charles H. Brown, assistant postmaster, who stated today that for the calendar year the postal receipts amounted to $22,350, an increase of $2,000 over any previous year.

During the war the postal receipts for one year amounted to $27,000 but this was when three cent postage was in effect and the additional penny was considered war tax, and was not included as postal revenue.

The local office continues in the second class position, as any office must do a $40,000 a year business to go into the first class.

Mr. Brown announced that several new orders are in effect which will benefit local patrons. The most important order is one regarding paying claims on insured packages.

The new order gives offices of the first class and second class, the right to adjust any claims under the insurance department, and this will expedite the payment of indemnities, as heretofore all losses had to be adjusted from Washington and three of four months would be required before claims would be paid.

Offices in the third and fourth class, are now under the supervision of the Indianapolis office, and are not under the county seat office and all claims for insurance will be taken up by the Indianapolis office for the third and fourth class offices.

The special delivery order, also has been received here, and hereafter no signature will be required when letters or parcels are sent special delivery. The idea of this is to quicken delivery, as the plans was originally intended to do.

Many people were of the opinion that the signature served as a re-

DECISION UPHOLDS INDIANA TAX BOARD

Supreme Court Also Declares Constitutional Home Rule Amendment Restoring Power to County

ROAD BOND ISSUE INVOLVED

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 8.—A decision of the St. Joseph County superior court was upheld by the supreme court of Indiana today, declaring constitutional that section of the tax law which vested in the state board final jurisdiction over bond issues.

It also held constitutional the home rule amendment which restores this power to county councils. The amendment became effective January 1st, repealing the first main section.

At the same time the court upheld a decision of the St. Joseph court which decided the county unit road law was constitutional. The case was that of Leo Van Hess, a taxpayer, against the board of commissioners of St. Joseph county to enjoin the commissioners from issuing and selling bonds to improve 6½ miles of highway under the county unit law, which costs $210,000 and from levying and collecting taxes to pay bonds and interest.

Van Hess's suit was filed before the special session of the legislature which adopted the "home rule" amendment. The result was considered especially significant in view of Governor Goodrich's construction that the legislature gave the tax board appellate jurisdiction over bond issues and a contemplated similar stand by governor-elect McCray.

PURDUE COURSE IS ABOUT READY

Plans Completed For Annual Event Which Will Open on January 10 and Close 14

MANY DIFFERENT SECTIONS

Departments Will be Offered For Men and Women in Any Branch That is Desired

Plans are complete for the farmers' annual short course at Purdue University Jan. 10 to 14 and hundreds of farm men and women from every county of the state are expected to attend. The course will open Monday afternoon with separate sessions for those interested in horticulture, dairying, poultry, livestock, soils and crops problems, and with two sections for the women.

Several Rush county farmers are planning to attend.

The school will offer one of the most complete week's instruction ever tendered at Purdue with all of the work being of a decidedly practical nature. Dozens of actual demonstrations, in many of which the men and women will learn to do by doing themselves, will be on the program.

Marketing will be one of the most important topics on the program and the subject will enter into many of the discussions. More economical methods of production also will be discussed and a number of farm men and women will be on the program to give the results of their experience with this problem or that problem.

The evening programs during the week will be especially strong with D. F. Maish of Frankfort and Director G. I. Christie of the Experiment Station to speak the first evening. John G. Brown president of the Indiana Farmers' Federation, and Mrs. Charles W. Sewell of Otterbein, will be the speakers Tuesday evening and Prof. Frank A. Waugh, of Massachusetts Agricultural College, on Wednesday evening. Thursday evening a special entertainment will be given at Fowler Hall.

In addition to the excellent program, annual meetings of the state organizations of corn growers, dairymen, home economics members, stockmen, dairy and beef cattle breeders and vegetable growers will be held. The state corn show also

ONLY FAINT CLEW IN SHEFFER EXPLOSION

Rumor That Nie Sheffer Confessed Causing Auburn Tragedy Causes Feeling to Run High

POLICE SAY HE DENIES IT

Auburn, Ind., Jan. 8.—Mystery still surrounds an explosion Thursday night which wrecked the home of J. W. Sheffer, a stock fancier, of this city, and a search for the person responsible for the blast and the death of two children continues. Funeral services for Heber Sheffer, age 26, and Martha Sheffer, age 12, his sister will be held Sunday afternoon at the Methodist Episcopal church in this city.

A rumor today that Nie Sheffer, brother of J. W. Sheffer, who is confined in the Dekalb county jail, had confessed responsibility for the explosion, caused feeling to run high and fears were felt for his safety, but police authorities say he denies all connection with the crime. He has prepared a detailed statement of his actions for the twenty-four hours before and after the explosion in an effort to prove an alibi.

The house is a wreck, the rear end being torn off by the force of the explosion, and the remainder presents a devastated appearance. The loss is estimated at $10,000.

Three clues, that a can resembling a nitroglycerin container, foot prints in the rear of the lot and alleged strange actions of the eccentric brother have been obtained. Walter Imler, a detective of Ft. Wayne, searched the home of Nie Sheffer, in the south part of the town, but failed to find any evidence other than some brass slugs.

TO BLOCK RECONSIDERATION

Supporters of Anti-Strike Bill Counter Moves by Opposition

(By United Press.)

Washington, Jan. 8.—Opponents of the Poinexter anti-strike bill today suddenly changed their plans when they learned that the bill's supporters were preparing to block reconsideration.

After a conference with other opponents of the bill, Senator LaFollette gave notice that he would call up a reconsideration notice in the senate Monday if the senate business permits. This decision was reached when it was learned that the advocates of the anti-strike legislation were preparing next week to move delay of LaFollette's motion to reconsider it made soon after the bill passed on December 16.

SHOW AT NEW SALEM ATTRACTS BIG CROWD

Awarding of $75 in Cash Prizes Last Thing on Program at Noble Township Meeting

THREE SPEAKERS ON PROGRAM

An unusually large crowd was reported today at the corn show and culinary exhibit which was given by the Noble Township Farmers association and woman's auxiliary at the school building in New Salem. Seventy-five dollars in prizes in the corn and culinary show, were to be awarded as the last thing on the program this afternoon.

At the morning session the principal talks were made by Donald D. Ball, county agricultural agent, on "Corn", and Mrs. Lewis F. Taylor of Indianapolis, wife of the former secretary of the Indiana Federation of Farmers associations. The program opened with the invocation by the Rev. Talmadge Defrees, pastor of the Little Flatrock Christian church, and included several numbers by the orchestra. It was closed with a prayer by the Rev. Mr. Reardon and a pitch-in dinner was served at noon. At the general session this afternoon at one o'clock, Frank Beale was to talk on "South America", and the orchestra gave two selections.

At two-fifteen o'clock group meetings for men and women were to be held. Mrs. Taylor was to address the women and the men planned to engage in a general discussion of farm topics.

PIERRE AUTHER AND COMPANION ARE HELD

Descendant of Spanish Nobility and War Hero Making Way to Border With Mrs. Franzen

SUICIDE PACT WAS ARRANGED

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 8.—Paul Pierre Auther, descendant of Spanish nobility and a war hero, and Mrs. Phillip Franzen wife of a Madison, Wisconsin, business man, who were arrested here while eloping to the Mexican border, made a proposition to die together if they could not live together, Mrs. Franzen said in an interview today.

The couple were making their way to the Mexican border and stopped here for the night where Mrs. Franzen's trunk was examined, which resulted in their capture.

When told that Auther had a wife and baby in Illinois, Mrs. Franzen expressed regret over their action.

"I love Pierre and I know that he loves me," said Mrs. Franzen. "I don't feel that we are doing anything wrong. I expect to get a divorce and Pierre will do the same and then we can live together. If further trouble comes up then we two can be together."

The three day honeymoon has been a flight from one place to another, according to Auther. He said they spent Wednesday in Chicago and on Thursday he saw charges against him through the newspapers. "We decided at once that the only thing to do was put as much distance between ourselves and friends, as possible, he said.

LEGISLATORS ARE IDLE OVER SUNDAY

Apparently Awaiting Views of Governor-Elect McCray. They Have Nothing to Talk About

2 QUESTIONS PROVIDE TOPIC

Whether to Continue Coal Commission and Remove State Reformatory From Jeffersonville

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 8.—This was the last day of Governor Goodrich's term of office. The state departments were pushing things to completion today so as to get the governor's O. K. before he surrenders the reins to the next governor, Warren T. McCray, next Monday.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 8.—Apparently awaiting the view of Governor-elect McCray regarding legislation, members of the general assembly, are spending the week-end in this city with little to talk about. Sitting or standing in groups in hotel lobbies, the members had little to talk about, because nothing concrete has been done by either house or senate since they first convened Thursday.

Two questions, however, furnished conversation. The first was whether to continue the special coal and food commission beyond March 31 the date of the legal expiration of that body, and second, whether to follow the recommendations of Governor Goodrich who urged the removal of the state reformatory from Jeffersonville to a more centrally located place.

In connection with the local question, Jesse Eschbach, chairman of the commission, is preparing to report to the legislature next week as to what the commission has done during its existence in regard to regulating prices, distribution of coal and investigation of the food situation.

It is expected he will tell the legislature the commission reduced prices of coal to such an extent as to save the people of Indiana more than a million dollars on fuel bills during the winter.

The governor's recommendation for the removal of the reformatory from Jeffersonville, will be the center of a big fight as such a proposal always has been in session before.

Already the people of Jeffersonville are busy trying to prevent such action while an equally strong influence is being brought to bear in the opposite direction.

TONSILS ARE REMOVED

An operation was performed on Noah Webb at the Dr. Frank H. Green hospital this morning for the removal of his tonsils.

Danville, Ind., Jan. 8.—Twenty-nine men have been arrested for gambling, two for keeping a gambling house, one for arson and three for permitting minors to play pool, as a result of an investigation by the Hendricks county grand jury.

MODERATE EARTH TREMOR

Washington, Jan. 8.—A "moderate" earthquake disturbance was recorded beginning at 1:40 a. m. today on the seismograph at Georgetown University here. Father Tondorf, director of the observatory, said the indicated distance was 2,400 miles from Washington. The record looked, he said, as though it might be a disturbance within continental United States.

29 INDICTED

There will be preaching both morning and evening Sunday by the Rev. G. I. Hoover at the Glenwood Christian church. Sunday School will be held at the regular hour, 9:30. The following new officers will have charge of the Sunday School at that time: superintendent, Lowell Matney; assistant superintendent, Clarence Carr; secretary, Hugh Dailey; assistant secretary, Marcia Kendall; treasurer, Russell Carr; organist, Miss Edna Ruff; chorister, C. A. Salyer.

THE MIRACLE COW

Fargo, N. D. Jan. 8—The "Miracle Cow" has been discovered. She is Salome's Carnation, a purebred Jersey, owned by William Page of Hamilton, N. D. She has shattered the high North Dakota record for butterfat production in the two-year old-heifer class. The previous record was 376.16 pounds of fat produced in one year. The new record hung up by Salome's Carnation is for 281 days, or less than nine months. In that time she has produced 401.05 pounds of fat. Salome's Carnation is not getting any more care or feed than any of the other cows in the herd.

BETTER BUSINESS PREDICTED SOON

Canvass of Richmond Manufacturers Indicates Resume of Business in a Few Days

CLOSED FOR INVENTORIES

Most Shops Will Resume Monday on 50% Scale and Normal Conditions in Short Time

Richmond, Ind., Jan. 8—Indications that manufacturers of Richmond are expecting better business within a few weeks were apparent from a canvass made Thursday.

With the end of the inventory period in sight, several heads of factories announced that their plants would open with approximately 50 per cent of the normal force within a short time.

Others are already working more than the usual number of men. Although these latter are in a decided minority at present, many manufacturers whose plants are working with only a portion of the normal force expressed their confidence in the outlook for the future.

Figures show that at least 1,500 men are out of employment in 21 concerns in the city. In addition, it is estimated that 500 men are idle through the closing of smaller plants, which respond more readily to industrial depression than some of the larger concerns.

A significant fact was that only one manufacturer expressed a pessimistic view of the situation, while many said that a month or six weeks at most would see a decided improvement.

One manager of a plant which employs 200 men said he expected to be working full force within sixty days.

Another employing nearly 500 men said his plant, which had been closed for some time, would re-open with one-half its normal force Monday.

Another plant which has been closed for the last four months, will re-open next week with one-half its normal force.

Due to the readjustment of economic conditions a number of manufacturers have reduced wages to their workmen. At present such plants as are operating in this city are working from eight to ten hours per day.

An index to the situation is the fact that only about 30 out of 80 boys under 16 years of age, who are employed in this city, in normal times are working now.

Woodworking shops in the city are affected in no small degree by the attitude of the Chicago furniture market. Several manufacturers are awaiting the decision of Chicago furniture trade authorities which will be given out after a meeting to be held soon, before taking any definite action toward reopening their plants.

In general, it may be said, that as far as possible employers in Richmond are carrying their employees on a part time basis, even though it means a temporary loss in order to be sure that their organizations will remain intact for the resumption of business.

ONLY 3 BEDS FOR 53 ORPHAN CHILDREN

New York, Jan. 6—Fifty-three children in three beds is the orphanage record to date in eastern Europe, where a third of the child population is fatherless and motherless, as the result of the war. Of course, fifty-three children could not actually occupy three beds, but that was all that was available in one orphanage in a factory town west of Warsaw. Naturally, most of the fifty-three had to sleep on the floor, whether they were well or, as it was in most instances, ill.

"But this was not the worst hardship the little ones suffered", reported the relief worker who discovered their plight. "They were on the verge of starvation. When I was there they had not had a full ration of bread for three weeks. More than half of them, also, were tuberculous, for under-nutrition is fast producing a race of consumptives in Poland".

To overcome this situation so far as may be and care for countless thousands of other suffering children in Europe, eight great American relief agencies have combined under the name of the European Relief Council in an appeal for $33,000,000 to carry out the work already begun for their rescue from a winter of horror.

BABYS UNDER YEAR OLD ONLY MAY HAVE BATH

Vienna Babies Taken to Relief Station Run by European Relief Council For Hot Bath

SCARCITY OF WOOD CAUSE

New York, Jan. 8.—Only babies under a year old may have a bath in Vienna, according to a report received at the headquarters of the European Relief Council here. The cost of wood is so high that it precludes use of hot water at home, so the babies are taken to one of the relief stations run by the European Relief Council and there obtain both hot baths and milk.

The Government-controlled price of milk is twenty-eight and fifty-four kronen a tin and with the reduced purchasing power of Austrian currency this price is so prohibitive that only the wealthy can afford to give babies condensed milk. No parent, no matter how great his influence, can obtain milk for his baby after it is two and a half years old—the age set by the Austrian Government for putting babies on a solid food diet. Milk is so scarce in the Central Empires that only invalids and the babes in arms are allowed to have it. The bread supplied is fifty percent maize flour, which is so rotten when it reaches Austria that it sets up pellagra disease and Vienna is suffering from an epidemic of stomach troubles and skin eruptions. Asylums, hospitals and feeding stations for the children are running under the auspices of the European Relief Council.

POLAND BETWEEN TWO MILESTONES

While Bolsheviks Prepare Attack on East Germans Also Are Waging Economic Offensive

ALLIES AID THE COUNTRY

Mighty Coalition of Entente Aimed at Preventing Junction of Germany and Russia

By LLOYD ALLEN.
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)
Warsaw (By Mail).—While the Bolsheviks are massing red divisions on Poland's Eastern frontier preparing another crushing military offensive—the Germans on the East are waging an economic offensive that has devalued Polish money.

Poland is between two terrible millstones threatened with national extinction. Without American and entente aid the country would long since have ceased to exist. America is feeding 900,000 Polish children every day.

England is aiding Poland's political offensive against powerful enemies (mainly Russia and Germany) while France has provided the military officials that are the backbone of Poland's general staff.

This mighty coalition of Entente and American force is aimed at preventing the annihilation of Poland and the junction of Germany and Russia. When the Polish block is removed, the German-Russian combination will shatter Europe's peace, according to general belief.

Such a combination would form the world's first great inland empire, Germany furnishing the munitions and organizing genius, while Russia would contribute from her unlimited manpower, totalling 180,000,000. Such a condition could exist indefinitely without a great naval fleet.

German methods of undercutting the Polish economic situation are very definite and efficient. Berlin has made a drive against the Polish mark. Today the Polish mark is worth 680 to the dollar. A year ago the rate was 200 to the dollar. Right now the mark is worth about one seventh of a cent, when its official value should be twenty cents.

Three schemes are being employed in this desperate onslaught directed from Berlin. First the Germans charge Poland one third more for German coal than the same coal costs in Germany. Scheme Two is a direct violation of the peace treaty. Germany simply refuses to sell Poland machinery and supplies for rebuilding Poland's greatest industry, the textile mills, mainly located at Lodz, which were destroyed by Germans during the war.

The third method is purely financial. Polish marks hoarded for more than a year are being dumped at bargain counter prices on the great currency market of Zurich, Switzerland.

Meanwhile Warsaw is most chaotic; no one knows what their money is really worth. You price a hat in one of the shops in the morning and may be told the price is 2000 marks. In the afternoon the price is 3000 marks. Everything is topsy turvy. Everyone whose fortune is made up of Polish marks has lost seventy-five percent of their savings through depreciation of the national currency.

Laboring people all over Poland find it impossible to live. Numerous strikes are reported daily. Social demoralization is general. Germany's economic offensive has proven a huge success.

However, there is a ray of hope. The Polish cabinet realizes the danger of the situation and the new Ministers of Finance and of Commerce and Labor, Steczkowski and Pranowski, are elaborating far reaching reforms. The big Polish banks are cooperating.

It's all part of the big problem of fighting the German-Russian hostility.

Red Cross Service

Rush county people who passed by the Red Cross appeal for membership when it was made last December, may regret some day that they neglected this call for service because no one knows when disaster may strike, nor where it may strike. It is only when disaster comes that the Red Cross is appreciated. It is then that members of the Red Cross are proud to be a part of an organization which is able to save human life because of its preparation to render relief quickly and effectively.

The kind of relief the Red Cross gives, which has been strikingly demonstrated in times of flood, fire and tornado, was again brought into play following a fire at Sidney, Shelby county, Ohio, in which a two-year-old child lost its life and three families were made homeless.

Starting at 6 o'clock in the morning, the fire destroyed two homes, sheltering three families, within an hour. Among the fire victims who were forced to flee from their flame-swept homes in scant night attire were seven children.

By 7 o'clock the local officials of the Red Cross were on the job. Immediate arrangements were made with the neighbors to care for the homeless families and by night the seven destitute children had been completely outfitted from head to foot.

The Red Cross chapter workers enlisted sewing clubs in the community in the plight of the fire victims with the result that before the end of the week the families had been provided with pillows, sheets and other home necessities.

A physician provided by the Red Cross attended one of the fire sufferers who had been seriously burned.

This Red Cross chapter now has an emergency supply of clothing for children up to nine years so that it is ready for any future emergency.

Membership in the American Red Cross enables that great organization of mercy and relief to stretch out its hand in all such disasters as the one at Sidney.

Disaster may strike at your door at any time. You'll then appreciate the aid of the Red Cross.

Are you doing your share to maintain this great service?

A woman art critic of Richmond has filed a petition in the circuit court to enjoin the Richmond board of works from closing an old unused roadway, all of which leads one to wonder how it is possible to work up any artistic enthusiasm over a poor, old, unkempt road.

THE TREND of LEGISLATION

BY GEO. W. STOUT
State Chamber of Commerce

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 8.—Indiana faces a large building program which also is a problem. Gov. James P. Goodrich, in his farewell message points out the needs of the state institutions. It is for the Legislature to plan and provide for extensive construction conditioned upon the future adjustment of construction costs. Gov. Goodrich suggests that prices are now going down and emphasizes the demand for active building operations of the State.

In the war period all building was halted save emergency construction. During the years since the armistice costs have gone upward beyond the war peak, but now are on the down trend, and Gov. Goodrich asserts in his message that much construction may be put through in the ensuing four years with no increase in the tax levy for state purposes.

He points out some improvements that are sorely needed, and the list is certainly an imposing one—a program of building that would put the state up among the leaders in accelerating the anticipated and necessary building movement of the near future. What with this proposed, and apparently essential building work by the State; necessary construction by municipalities and counties, matters long deferred; and the great mileage of highway construction projected in Indiana, it would appear that public works in general are to be a considerable factor in the economic readjustments that lie ahead.

There will be a hearty response to the call for proper additions to the hospitals for the insane. It is pointed out that these institutions should be enlarged to care for 1,500 persons who now lack the State's guardianship. The lodging of insane persons in jails and poor houses has long been a serious reflection upon the commonwealth. This housing item, along with the removal and reconstruction of the reformatory—which in any event must be rebuilt since the big fire—and the construction of the Butlerville colony for the feeble-minded, along with hospital additions and the completion of buildings at the epileptic village, constitutes an imposing array to be considered by the legislature in the light of existing and prospective economic conditions.

Then there are proposed extensions strongly urged on behalf of the educational institutions controlled by the State. Everybody agrees that the three state schools ought to be enabled not only to extend their activities so as to care for the steadily increasing demand, which continues to exceed capacity each year, but those educational institutions obviously ought to be able to retain high class instructors essential to the maintenance of the Indiana standard of first class education.

Already the law-makers are contemplating the building needs of the State and at the same time are studying costs as at present made up. One legislator, for example, in discussing the building program, suggested that in view of the fact that the cost of placing brick in the wall had increased 362 percent in recent years—labor cost going up 51 percent—with other items more or less in extravagant proportion, it may be wise to enter carefully into building plans with a view to conditioning some of the construction upon reasonable readjustments in the cost department.

However, there is a pretty general feeling that with the spring opening the construction business, along with many other lines of industry and activity will have arrived at a basis of reason and progress following the period of mounting costs and consequent stagnation.

There will be lively interest in Governor-elect McCray's message as that message may touch on the building needs of the State. It is well known that the appeal to Gov. McCray's humanitarian side in behalf of the unfortunate insane, feeble-minded and epileptic wards of the State is sure to get a warm response with all possible practical and constructive effort on his part. The educational interests are confident also that the incoming executive will be sympathetic and in accord with the urgent suggestion that the state schools and educators, and the youth of the commonwealth obtain the support they need.

Those who are concerned on behalf of the state schools are pleased by the announcement that Representative Otto G. Fifield of Crown Point is to serve as chairman of the house ways and means committee—the committee which has charge of appropriations. This responsibility carries with it the majority floor leadership in the house. Mr. Fifield succeeds to the ways and means chairmanship logically, as he has just served on the legislative visiting committee appointed in advance of the session to ascertain the needs of state institutions of all sorts.

The Fifield appointment is acceptable to the business men in country and city alike, and is in accord with the executive department's ideas of fitness and capacity for service. Mr. Fifield is a graduate of Purdue university, and has succeeded on the farm and in business. His leadership qualifications already have been demonstrated in the house.

One of the interesting suggestions made by Gov. Goodrich will arouse discussion on all sides. The plan to consolidate the Indiana Reformatory and the State Penal Farm at the latter place, Putnamville, the new plant to be erected with inmate labor so far as that can be done, failed of adoption at the 1919 session. It remains to be seen whether Gov. Goodrich's arguments in favor of the change will impress the present session more forcibly than they did the 1919 body. No doubt the supporters of both sides of this proposition will supply material for extended comments as the session proceeds.

The Goodrich farewell message makes a point which the average taxpayer will probably take close to heart at this time. On the matter of salary-increases for public officers, the message says: "It has never yet been found possible to decrease the statutory salary or compensation of anyone engaged in the public service." In other words once an increase is allowed by law, the public salary thus enlarged will continue at the high scale, regardless of salary and wage adjustments made in ordinary business or industry under private direction. With adjustments now going on in prices, costs, salaries and wages, Gov. Goodrich argues that the law-makers, on behalf of the people, should scrutinize with care all requests for increases in the pay of public officers. At the same time he rightly holds for just compensation based on recognition of ability, talent and honest service.

The Peddler Nuisance
(Newcastle Courier)

We often hear of peddlers and traveling magazine solicitors who find easy and ready victims among Newcastle people, who would turn down a person selling the same thing and whom they have known many years.

A few years ago an alleged magazine solicitor dropped into town from Muncie and in a few hours gathered in 'fourteen' real, American dollars, which was not a bad afternoon's work. He called on sixteen people and only two of them refused to put up the cash for the magazine. And he hadn't a single scrap of paper or the scratch of a pen from the publishers of the magazine to show that he was their authorized and accredited agent.

The police were put next to this solicitor's game and he very promptly surrendered his fake receipt book and the fourteen dollars. But there are undoubtedly many more such solicitors about whom the police never hear.

The Courier knows of at least two local magazine solicitors, who are the accredited representatives of the publications they sell. Both are invalids and incapable of hard work, and they are worthy in every way. Yet it would take either of them a week to secure as many dollars as did this strange solicitor in a few hours.

And still another case of buying from peddlers has come to The Courier's attention. The victim told it on himself in the hope that the stinging he got will be an example to others.

A day or two before Christmas a man with a big basket of oranges went down one of the city's best residential streets, peddling his wares at forty cents a dozen—five cents cheaper than the stores downtown were selling them. The man who tells it on himself bought a dozen of the oranges, paid his money and has not seen the peddler since. Three of the dozen oranges proved to be too ripe to eat, and the other nine had been frozen and were not palatable.

Here are two recent cases of buying from strange peddlers and in each the purchasers were stung with no chance of a come-back. Had the man who bought the oranges gone to his home store and purchased the fruit and found some of it overripe or frost-bitten, he would have promptly returned it to the grocer, who would either have replaced the spoiled fruit or given the man his money back. As it is he has no recourse on the peddler, who has never been seen since.

The next time a magazine solicitor calls on you and asks for cash, require him to show his credentials from the publishers. If he cannot do so, call police headquarters and report him. And the next time a peddler calls at your house, ask him or her to show a city license. If he or she has none, call police headquarters and report the peddler. All good citizens can help in this way.

RUSHVILLE TEAMS GET AN EVEN BREAK

High School Varsity Defeats Liberty
Using Substitutes Most of Game,
38 to 14

SECOND TEAM IS DEFEATED

Brownsville Plays Locals Overtime
Game, Winning 16 to 14—Contest is a Thriller

The Liberty high school basketball team dropped another game last night to the local high school, at the Graham Annex gymnasium, the final count being 38 to 14. The Brownsville high won out over the second team from Rushville, in a five minute overtime contest, 14 to 14.

The local team did not have to exert itself in order to win and three substitutes played in the place of regulars mostly during the game.

The three substitutes started the game for Rushville and the first fifteen minutes Liberty was held to a 13 to 6 count, and then in the last five minutes of play in this half the three regulars were placed in the line up and the score ended at the first half 19 to 6.

The last half also was started with the substitutes and the score continued to pile up. When the score was 37 to 11, Rushville slowed down and the visitors made their three points which brought them up to 14.

Referee Evans called a foul on Liberty just as the final whistle blew and Eakins made the last marker for Rushville on the foul point, which he threw at the close of the game.

The three substitutes, Reynolds and Phillips at forward and Davis at center, played in good form, and deserve a great deal of credit. The two forwards especially were good on hitting the basket, and Davis had his hands full in following Thompson the tall blonde for Liberty, who made all of the visitors points, except two.

Coach Sutton will probably start the regular line up tonight in the game against Fortville, and this team will no doubt furnish better opposition than the Liberty team.

The visitors last night never gave up their fighting spirit and stayed in the game all of the time. The team worked around Thompson, and he was the shining star for the visitors. He had an eye for the basket and all points that he made were from a distance. He was off form on foul goals, but made 12 of the 14 points for his team.

Reynolds, substitute forward for Rushville, showed up well, and no doubt will make someone on the team hustle in order to keep his position. Reynolds also has the ability to make foul shots, and made good three out of four chances.

Eakins, who played most of the last half, was not compelled to play hard. He also made three foul shots out of six chances.

The two Headlee brothers were in the game together, and during the short time that they played, each of them were point getters and managed to put "pep" in things. Frazee did not have his hands full last night, as in former games, but was in the entire game, and played consistently.

Miller was back in uniform last night, and played the entire game. While he was credited with only one basket, he had many chances but allowed others on the team to take part in the scoring.

The most exciting contest of the two games, was the curtain raiser between the first team from Brownsville and the local second team. The game was almost an even break from beginning to end, and the first half ended 7 to 7. In the last half the two teams worked hard to break the tie, but the whistle blew as Nipp, for Rushville, again tied up the score with a foul goal, 13 to 13.

Five minutes overtime was decided upon to play, and each team scored another point on foul goals, and just about a minute before the overtime was up, Brownsville threw the win-

GARTHAGE IN PRELIMINARY

Will Meet Seconds Here Tonight
Previous to Fortville Game

The Garthage high school second team will come here tonight to play the local second team as a preliminary game to the Rushville-Fortville contest. The Garthage team has won a greater portion of their games this year and are coming with the expectation of winning the game. The local team has lost two games straight and will make a big endeavor tonight to get back in the winning column again.

The preliminary game will begin at 7:15. The Fortville team will come this afternoon and are said to have a strong team. Although Milroy defeated them recently, the exact strength of the team cannot be determined by the victory which they won, of the floor at Milroy.

BIG BOWLING TOURNAMENT

One Thousand 5 Man Teams Will
Try For Championship

Buffalo, Jan. 8.—One thousand five-man teams from the United States, Canada and Mexico will compete for $40,000 in prize money to be distributed in the 1921 American Bowling Congress tournament, which is to be held here February 28 to March 31. Secretary A. L. Langtry, of the A. B. C., at a recent meeting here, said he will obtain 600 teams from the United States, Canada and Mexico. Buffalo will probably supply 40 teams.

Sixteen alleys will be in use day and night for the tournament. There is great enthusiasm all over the country, and especially in the west, for the tournament, Langtry said. Chicago, alone expects to furnish 100 five-man teams, Langtry said.

MILROY ROMPS OVER MORRISTOWN QUINTET

Rush County Team Experiences Little
Trouble in Beating Shelby
County Team

FINAL COUNT WAS 68 TO 18

Morristown high school and all of its boasting about taking the scalp of Milroy resulted disastrously for the Shelby county team last night, when they went down into defeat, 68 to 18, on the floor at Milroy.

Milroy started in piling up the score soon after the game opened, and they registered 16 points before the visiting team had even a chance at the basket. The first period saw Milroy comfortably leading 35 to 8.

Stewart was the shining star on the basket, and made 13 field goals, while McKee followed with 10. Osterling, the center, made 6 field goals. D. Jones, floor guard, made 3, and Cowan, back guard, was credited with a field goal. Stewart also made two foul goals.

Morristown was unable to head off the attack of Milroy, and was given the worst defeat of this season. In a curtain raiser, the Milroy second team also romped over the Glenwood team, 48 to 12.

Milroy high school's next game is with Westport at that place next Friday, and this game should also be an easy victory.

THIRD CONSECUTIVE IN NEW RALEIGH GYM

High School Team Trims Lewisville
Friday Night, Shooting of Forwards Being Feature

FINAL SCORE IS 29 TO 15

The Raleigh high school basketball team defeated Lewisville Friday night, 29 to 15, making the third consecutive victory for the Raleigh five in its new gymnasium.

The defensive work of the Raleigh quintet and the goal shooting of Poer and Laughlin, Raleigh forwards, were features of the game. Hall, Lewisville guard, showed up best for the visitors both at guarding, and on the offensive.

Fisher played the first half for Raleigh at forward, but Laughlin, the regular forward went in the last half and proved a whirlwind. The two teams lined up as follows:

Raleigh (29) Lewisville (15)
Fisher F Martin
Poer F Lane
Craig C Parker
Hyatt G Hall
Ertle G Showalter
Substitutions—Laughlin for Fisher.

MOSCOW HIGH IS SWAMPED

Defeated at Carthage Friday Night
by Score of 55 to 11

Carthage high school had little trouble last night in walking away from the Moscow high school team at Carthage, the final count being 55 to 11. Moscow played good ball in the first half, but was overpowered in the last period by the Carthage team. The first half ended 14 to 7. Heathcock, center for Carthage, made sixteen field goals. Preliminary games were played between two girls' teams and the second high school team and the eighth grade teams.

Connersville will play at Carthage next Wednesday night.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 8.—Important events are occurring in the basketball world which are of such interest to the followers of the great indoor sport that whole columns are devoted to them in the newspapers.
They happen so often and in so many parts of the state that the Hoosier basketball fans can hardly remember them all.

But there is one important thing that has not been touched by more than a few writers. It was the meeting early in December at Chicago, where the officials, coaches and representatives of the Big Ten conference colleges met to "discuss the basketball rules." What the Big Ten conference colleges rule, the other colleges agree to and the interpretation put on the rules at that meeting far reaching in all parts of Indiana, every college basketball team being affected.

Many of the leading athletic clubs and independent teams always follow the rules as laid down by the conference but it appears that some of these rulings or rather interpretations of basketball rules will not meet with favor among the high schools and will not be approved or used in prep school games.

The dribble rule ever since the days when there were college rules and A. A. U. basketball rules published under separate covers always was a matter on which there was division of opinions, but a few years ago all factions got together and adopted the college style of dribble which made the game lots faster.
However the rules committee took a step backwards this year in ruling out the one step at the start of a dribble which slows the game. The new ruling made by the conference and supplanting the one in the rule book is pleasing the basketball fans.

The other rulings or interpretations have to do with naming the official goal, the weight of the basketball which must be 21 to 22 ounces and other similar ones. It might interest basketball players to put their new basketballs on a scale and see if the ball meets the regulation requirements, in weight and size.

Manilla High School Nosed Out by
Connersville Friday Night

The Connersville high school and the Manilla high school teams staged a royal battle last night at Blue Ridge, when the Fayette county team nosed out Manilla by a lone point, 20 to 19. The game was an exciting affair from start to finish, and Manilla was confident that they could beat Connersville, had the game been played on the Manilla floor. The basement of the school building was under water, and the game had to be played at Blue Ridge, and because of the rain, Manilla was not given any support by the basketball fans.

ZIONIST COMING TO U.S.

Dr. Weizmann to Attend Convention of Zionist Societies of Canada

(By United Press)
New York, Jan. 8.—Dr. Chaim Weizmann, leader of world Zionism, is coming to this country the early part of February, according to a cable received by the Zionist Organization of America. Dr. Weizmann will land in Canada about January 30, and after attending the convention of the Federated Zionist Societies of Canada, he will be met in Montreal by officers of the Zionist Organization of America.

This is Dr. Weizmann's first visit to this country, and Zionists are hailing his coming with the greatest satisfaction. Dr. Weizmann made possible the Balfour Declaration making Palestine the Jewish homeland.

Definite arrangements have not yet been made for Dr. Weizmann's tour of the country, but it is expected that he will be able to visit all the large cities while he is here. I yfu, bE, t-o iy o, W (00

New York Society Apes The Stage

By "MARJORIE"
(Written for United Press)

New York, Jan. 8—Grand Opera devotees are wondering if a new order of things has decreed that the opulent stage costumes shall be worn by audience and not the star and chorus. With a season of metallic laces, gorgeous, brocades, and Oriental knickknacks, The Diamond Horseshoe and even the balconies above it seem garbed a la masquerade fully as much as the great stage itself.

Far-fetched as it may seem, also, it is clearly noted that the garb of the audience changes according to the Opera, as it tries to be in harmony with the style, period and coloring upon the stage.

Thus, on the nights when capers about as the vampish and gorgeous Carmen the Opera House glows with a bevy of gay scarlet and crimson gowns, brocaded mantles of rich red velvets, flecked with stripes of gold, and feather headpieces as brilliant as ever graced an Injun's scalplock.

The more mystic Wagnerian Operas call forth an audience clad in rather pastel raiment. Lavenders, cool greens and blues, and much white and black characterizes the dress of the feminine audience. Fewer jewels are worn than on French or Italian Opera Nights, and headpieces are fashioned of spun gold or silver to resemble the Valkyries' helmets.

Never has there been a better year for this society game of "Keeping Up With the Stage". Fashion decrees that evening costume shall be as luxuriant, bizarre, and colorful as possible. The early autumn vogue for midnight velvets has been utterly flouted by the midseason vogue for dazzling color in brocades, satins, velvets and laces.

Most of the gowns depend upon material for effect, and trimmings are woven right into the fabric. The clinging, princess type of gown is most in favor with both flapper and matron. Recent operas have brought forth an audience wearing a new peacock blue. Every box in the charmed circle contained at least one gown in this shade. Many of them were of heavy-napped velvets, but gold and silver-striped brocades were in the lead.

Debutantes shun the pretty pink, blue, yellow and green tulle creations of yester Opera Year and choose white velvets, crystal cloths, or crystal embroidered nets. American beauty velvet cut a la princess with slippers to match and silver hose is a favored combination of this season. This is the color that the debutante and young miss chooses most frequently for her evening wrap, also. If the wrap is of fur instead of a silk or velvet, it is generally white chinchilla or ermine lined, with shirred American beauty satin.

Wraps, by the way, are the big thing in evening costume this year. Many of the best dressed women wear their gorgeous wraps throughout entire performances, and have their slippers and headpieces match the wrap, rather than the gown beneath. They are hardly necessary for warmth, as might have been the case last year, for the "bare back" dress is very passe, and this year it is only sleeves that are minus while a covered throat is considered very chic, indeed.

The carriage line draws as many ogles this year as the stage entrance, for the Oriental-colored wraps of rich brocades and lustrous satins, the glittering tiaras and gorgeous feather combs, jeweled slippers, and priceless pettries make such a sight as even the Opera crowd has not presented for some years back.

"The New York Idea," Princess

"The New York Idea," featuring Alice Brady, and "His Noisy Still," a Sunshine comedy, are the offerings at the Princess today, and Monday William S. Hart comes in "The Toll Gate," a border romance.

The New York idea is to marry for whim and divorce for the same reason; in other words divorce in haste and repent at leisure. As the capricious heroine, Cynthia Karslake, Miss Brady has something nearer a comedy role than her previous Realart pictures have afforded her though she brings her well-known emotional ability to play more than once. Throughout the picture she wears sumptuous clothes, as do the other women of the cast, as well as several hundred extras who are used for ball room, wedding and race track scenes. Aside from the plot the film would have interested merely as a picture of New York society.

Belmont Park race track on Long Island, The Piping Rock Hunt Club and other favorite haunts of the idle rich are used as backgrounds for the unfolding of the story, which abounds in divorces—which may be said to make it an accurate picture of smart society.

"The Birth of a Race," Mystic

Direct from a long and successful run in Chicago, the big photoplay, "The Birth of a Race" comes to the Mystic Theatre on Monday and Tuesday.

This great drama of the films was in preparation for more than two years and employed the services of the best scenario writers, most competent actors, clever directors and most efficient photographers that could be secured and in addition it has been supplied with a descriptive music score, composed by Joseph Breil, who wrote the famous accompaniments for "The Birth of a Nation" and "Intolerance". An augmented orchestra also comes as a special musical feature.

The theme of this wonderful drama is the story of peace, of democracy, of brotherhood. It traces the history of world advancement from the Garden of Eden to the dawn of peace, in the present year of our Lord. It is one of the most graphic history of world advancement for the enlightenment entertainment of the people. Perhaps no great photoplay has ever been prepared with more earnest care, more historical research, more truth and eager effort for dramatic effect than "The Birth of a Race." No lover of unusual pictures should miss the opportunity of seeing this production.

WORK TO REQUIRE FORTY AMERICANS

All Donations Must be Gone Over by Inspectors and Assigned to Localities

100,000 NATIVE WORKERS

Handling of Foodstuffs and Clothing For European Children, is Planned Systematically

Chicago, Jan. 7.—Only forty Americans will be required to handle the distribution of the thousands of tons of foodstuffs to 3,500,000 undernourished children of Eastern and Central Europe this winter, according to the program of the European Relief Council of which Herbert Hoover is chairman. The detail of all transportation and cooking of food, the examination and reexamination of the children, the local administrative work, is carried on by the local native committees, many of the members of which are volunteer. The native workers number more than 100,000.

It will take every week this winter 3944 metric tons of American foodstuffs, or nearly nine million pounds. This will provide these children with one meal each day. A "meal" is somewhat less than a half a pound of food and it is furnished only six days in the week, no kitchen being open on Sunday. The total cost, for that thirty-four weeks until the next harvest, of furnishing more than 134,000 tons of foodstuffs will be $23,000,000.

The food is of the plainest and includes such staples as cocoa, sugar, condensed milk, flour, beans, rice and lard. The cost to the European Relief Council of a single meal is approximately three cents, while it is estimated that one dollar will feed a child for a month and ten dollars will feed him until next harvest. The child feeding can be done for this small sum, the food bought, sent over, distributed, cooked and fed to the children, because for every dollar contributed in America, the foreign governments give two dollars, furnishing the transportation, the warehousing facilities, the kitchens, the personnel, and all other details necessary to translate the raw food in America into warm, noon-day dinners for the starved children.

Eight charitable organizations in this country have united to keep open the feeding stations in Austria, Hungary, Czechoslovakia and Poland. They are the American Relief Administration, the American Red Cross, the American Friends Service Committee (Quakers) the Federated Council of Churches of Christ in America, the Jewish Joint Distribution Committee, the Knights of Columbus, the Y. M. C. A., and the Y. W. C. A. A total of $33,000,000 is sought in the United States, $23,300,000 for the child feeding program and $10,000,000 for medical attention to several million little sufferers from the diseases of malnutrition.

Franklin K. Lane is treasurer at headquarters, 42 Broadway, New York.

NAME COMMITTEE TO PRESS BILLS

Indiana Department of American Legion to Work For Bills in Which They Are Interested

TO MEET IN CITY MONDAY

Press Two Bills—One For State
Control Over Boxing and The Other is Free Registration

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 8.—L. R. Gignilliat, commander of the Indiana Department of the American Legion has appointed a legislative committee for the department, who will work for the passage of bills in which the Legion is interested at the session of the legislature.

The following have been appointed: George Cunningham, Evansville; Don McKahan, Martinsville; W. H. McCormack, Bedford; Otto W. Englehart, Brazil; J. P. Goodwin, Brookville; Arthur R. Robinson, Indiana Trust Bldg., Indianapolis; Geo. Healey, Frankfort; Floyd Murray, Hammond; Frank McHale, Logansport; Dr. John Galpin, Ft. Wayne; A. E. Lonn, Laporte.

These men will meet in Indianapolis Monday, when they will select a chairman and lay the plans of their campaign.

The Legion is pressing two bills, especially. The first would provide for state control over boxing, and would legalize the sport in the state. The other would provide free registration by county recorders of honorable discharge for all service men.

The boxing bill would create a state athletic commission, which would issue permits for all contests and besides require all promoters to take out licenses. The board would have the power to fix rules and regulations for all contests. Boxers would be required to register with the commission before they could participate in a bout. License fees would range from $50 for cities of the fifth class to $300 for cities of the first class. A representative of the commission would be required to attend all bouts. A special tax of 8 per cent of the gross receipts of any bout would be fixed, the receipts to go into the state treasury.

No bout could be more than 15 rounds, and boxing gloves used could weigh not less than 5 ounces each. The bill would not permit any person under 18 years old to take part in a bout, and no one under 16 could attend a contest.

The bill would prevent smoking in the room where bouts were to be held.

LABOR MOVING BACK TO FARM, SAYS BRYANT

With Readjustment Period at Hand
Much Labor That Was Lured to City Has Begun to Return

FARM WAGES ATTRACTIVE

By GEORGE BRYANT
Field Agent, Department Agriculture
(Written for United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 8.—With the readjustment period at hand in the large industrial centers and curtailment of expenses all along the line, including railroads, much of the labor that was lured from farms to secure high wages prevailing in cities, has begun to return, and practically all agricultural districts now have a surplus of farm labor although there is no great demand for it at this season of the year. Farm wages, however, are quite as attractive as those paid in cities, being approximately $3 a day with board and $60 a month without board, where hired by the month. In the case of single men working by the month they have additional compensation in the way of laundry and keep for a horse, etc. Married men have house rent, garden plot and keep for cow, chickens, etc., and some time an allowance of meat, in addition to the cash wage. The increase in farm wages, over the pre-war period, is somewhat more than double, with not much prospect of a decline, although the value of nearly all farm products has dropped more than 50 percent during the past few months.

or both installments will become delinquent and subject to a penalty.

The Second Installment must be paid on or before the
FIRST MONDAY IN NOVEMBER, 1921

No tax receipts will be held out until taxes are paid in full.

Extracts From the Statutes of Indiana.

That each person or taxpayer charged with taxes on a duplicate in the hands of a County Treasurer may pay the full amount of such taxes on or before the first Monday in May, or may at his option, pay one-half thereof on or before the first Monday in May, and the remaining half on or before the first Monday in November, in the manner prescribed by law. All road taxes to be added to the first installment.

When the first installment is not paid prior to the first Monday in May, the taxes for the whole year become delinquent. The Treasurer will not be responsible for the penalty and charges on Delinquent Taxes resulting from any omission of the person paying to state definitely on what property, in whose name and in what township or corporation it was assessed.

Persons owing Delinquent Taxes should pay them at once. The late law is of such character that there is no option left the Treasurer but to enforce the collection of delinquent taxes, however much he may regret to collect the same, by sale of property.

The owner of the property on the first day of March in any year, shall be liable for the payment of all taxes of that year. The purchaser of property on the first day of March shall be considered as owner on that day.—Sec. 103.

All property, both personal and real, situated in any county shall be liable for the taxes, penalties, interests, and costs to the owners thereof, in such county, and no partial payment of such taxes, penalties, interests or costs shall discharge or release any part or portion of such property until the whole is paid; which lien shall in no wise be affected or destroyed by any sale or transfer of any such personal property.—Sec. 644, R. S.

The Treasurer has no option in rebating the penalty on taxes allowed to go delinquent. No County Order will be paid to persons owing delinquent taxes and all parties are warned against buying the same.

The Annual Sale of Delinquent Lands and Lots will take place on the Second Monday in February, 1921.

PARTICULAR ATTENTION

TAXPAYERS SHOULD EXAMINE THEIR RECEIPTS before leaving the Treasurer's office and see that they are correct. Those who have lands or other property in more than one township, must see that they have a receipt for all.

PROTEST SALE OF AUDITORIUM

Contractors Who Constructed Carthage Community House and Another Creditor in Court

Expected to File Petition in Court Demanding Receiver Collect Outstanding Pledges

The Carthage Auditorium Association's affairs were supposed to have been settled Tuesday when R. E. Henley, receiver, sold the building to J. F. Tweedy for $7,500, but today the Pan American Bridge Company by their attorney, D. L. Smith, and Maul and Whitely, contractors, by their attorney, C. W. Duncan, were in court in an effort to have the sale set aside.

The attorneys and those interested in the case were present all day in the court room, and it was expected that some kind of an agreement would be reached between the parties concerned.

The two companies had claims against the association, and the total amount of liens against the building, including the one of Mr. Tweedy, the purchaser, were said to amount to nearly $21,000.

The two companies were basing their demands on the grounds that the sale of the building was not advertised legally. It was appraised at $7,500 and was sold for this same amount, Mr. Tweedy being the purchaser.

The two companies also will likely file a petition with the court, demanding that Mr. Henley, receiver, collect the outstanding pledges on the building which amount to approximately $4,000, provided that the sale is ordered set aside.

George H. Mesling has filed suit against the trustees of the Little Flatrock Christian church, and Morris Winship, contractor. The suit is to foreclose a lien and for personal judgment, in which $385.62 is demanded. The complaint states that Mesling was allowed a sub-contract, and the amount is due him from Mr. Winship, the general contractor.

Ethel Rodgers, after 16 years of married life, has filed suit for divorce from Joseph Rodgers, alleging cruel and inhuman treatment, and asserting that he was an habitual drunkard, and struck at her and on one occasion kicked her. She also asks the custody of their two children.

William L. Newbold has filed suit against Austen Hyatt on a note, which dates back to 1913, and $228 judgment is demanded.

ARE EXPECTED AT MATTICE

Naval Balloonists May Reach Canadian Outpost by Nightfall

Cochrane, Ontario, Jan. 8—Expectancy that the three weather-buffed naval balloonists from Rockaway, N. Y., would emerge before nightfall from the snowy wilderness that has enfolded them since they dropped to earth December 14, near the Moose Factory trading station, prevailed this outpost of civilization today.

Whether the trio, Lieutenants A. L. Koor, Jr.; Walter Hinton and Stephen Farrell would end their perilous adventure at the Missinabi river trail's end at Mattice, 110 miles west of here, or at Clute, only a few miles away, still was unknown. But the majority of the little army of newspaper men, photographers and Canadian mounted police sent out to meet them are staking their hopes on Mattice and have set out for that town, leaving Cochrane almost deserted.

COAL PRICES SLUMP

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 8.—Coal prices started to fall here today, and Monday is expected to see a general slump, according to dealers here. One of the largest coal retailers announced a reduction from $1 to $2 effective today.

SILLO DEBATE IS POSTPONED

Bad Weather Cuts Attendance at Richland Farmers Meeting

On account of the inclemency of the weather, the attendance at the meeting of the Richland Township Farmers association Friday night was small, and the debate on the question as to whether the sillo pays as an investment was postponed until a week from last night when it is hoped that the weather will not interfere. The meeting was held at the Butler school house.

There were several visitors from Decatur county present and they all spoke describing what was being accomplished by their association. The fertilizer question was also discussed at some length. Howard F. Fawbank secretary of the county association, represented that organization at the meeting.

ONLY CERTAINTIES IN HARDING'S SLATE

George Christian Will be Secretary to President and Daugherty Will be "Colonel House"

CABINET IDEAS CONFUSED

Marion, Ohio, Jan. 8—Two final decisions have been made by President-elect Harding, it was learned in authoritative quarters here today:

1—George Christian, Jr., of Marion, will be secretary to the president.

2—Harry M. Daugherty, Columbus, will be the "Colonel House" of Harding's administration.

These are only two certainties standing out from the confusion which surrounds the cabinet situation today. Harding apparently is farther from final decision on his cabinet now than at any time recently.

The slate was virtually settled two weeks ago and all but a few posts were filled. But influences now bearing down on him with full strength, financial, economic, racial and geographical, have undone his selections and he now appears uncertain as to what to do.

Harry M. Daugherty is still expected to go into the cabinet regardless of opposition which is being manifested. He is expected to become attorney general if he enters the cabinet. He is in business with a leading law firm in Columbus, although he has not done much court work in recent years.

ATTENDANCE OF 250 AT MILROY INSTITUTE

Last of Series Under Auspices of Purdue Extension Department is Held Friday

NEW OFFICERS ARE ELECTED

An attendance of two hundred and fifty persons marked the last of the farmers' institutes under the auspices of the Purdue extension department, which was held at Milroy Friday. The program, which included addresses by Miss Ethelwyn Miller of Franklin and W. H. Senour of Brookville, was held in the school building.

Thirty dollars in cash prizes were offered in the corn show, but the awards were not announced today and will not be definitely known until Monday, officers of the institute stated. The show was open to farmers of Anderson, Orange and Richland townships.

Ray Shelby was elected chairman of the institute organization, succeeding Hubert Innis, and Dolph W. Crane was selected as vice-chairman; Jacob Brown, secretary, and Alex Innis, treasurer. Mrs. George Senour was chosen chairman of the women's division and named a committee of five to assist her.

"Soil Efficiency" and "Mutually Helpful" were the subjects discussed in an entertaining way by Mr. Senour, and Miss Miller's topics for the morning and afternoon session were "Kitchen Arrangements" and "The School Girl's Clothing".

LOCAL POSTOFFICE SETS A NEW RECORD

Business During 1920 Amounts to $22,350, Which is Largest by $2,000 in History

RECEIPTS ONCE GREATER

During War Three-Cent Postage Brought in Greater Revenue Was Extra Penny War Tax

The Rushville postoffice enjoyed the best year's business in its history during 1920, according to Charles H. Brown, assistant postmaster, who stated today that for the calendar year the postal receipts amounted to $22,350, an increase of $2,000 over any previous year.

During the war the postal receipts for one year amounted to $27,000 but this was when three-cent postage was in effect and the additional penny was considered war tax, and was not included as postal revenue.

The local office continues in the second class position, as any office must do a $40,000 a year business to go into the first class.

Mr. Brown announced that several new orders are in effect which will benefit local patrons. The most important order is one regarding paying claims on insured packages.

The new order gives offices of the first class and second class, the right to adjust any claims under the insurance department, and this will expedite the payment of indemnities, as heretofore all losses had to be adjusted from Washington and three of four months would be required before claims would be paid.

Offices in the third and fourth class, are now under the supervision of the Indianapolis office, and are not under the county seat office and all claims for insurance will be taken up by the Indianapolis office for the third and fourth class offices.

The special delivery order also has been received here, and hereafter no signature will be required when letters or parcels are sent special delivery. The idea of this is to quicken delivery, as the plans was originally intended to do.

Many people were of the opinion that the signature served as a re-

DECISION UPHOLDS INDIANA TAX BOARD

Supreme Court Also Declares Constitutional Home Rule Amendment Restoring Power to County

ROAD BOND ISSUE INVOLVED

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 8.—A decision of the St. Joseph County superior court was upheld by the supreme court of Indiana today, declaring constitutional that section of the tax law which vested in the state board final jurisdiction over bond issues.

It also held constitutional the home rule amendment which restores this power to county councils. The amendment became effective January 1st, repealing the first main section.

At the same time the court upheld a decision of the St. Joseph court which decided the county unit road law was constitutional. The case was that of Leo Van Hess, a taxpayer, against the board of commissioners of St. Joseph county to enjoin the commissioners from issuing and selling bonds to improve 6 1/2 miles of highway under the county unit law, which costs $210,000 and from levying and collecting taxes to pay bonds and interest.

Van Hess's suit was filed before the special session of the legislature which adopted the "home rule" amendment. The result was considered especially significant in view of Governor Goodrich's construction that the legislature gave the tax board appellate jurisdiction over bond issues and a contemplated similar stand by governor-elect McCray.

MANY DIFFERENT SECTIONS

Departments Will be Offered For Men and Women in Any Branch That is Desired

Plans are complete for the farmers' annual short course at Purdue University Jan. 10 to 14 and hundreds of farm men and women from every county of the state are expected to attend. The course will open Monday afternoon with separate sessions for those interested in horticulture, dairying, poultry, livestock, soils and crops problems, and with two sections for the women.

Several Rush county farmers are planning to attend. The school will offer one of the most complete week's instruction ever tendered at Purdue with all of the work being of a decidedly practical nature. Dozens of actual demonstrations, in many of which the men and women will learn to do by doing themselves, will be on the program.

Marketing will be one of the most important topics on the program and the subject will enter into many of the discussions. More economical methods of production also will be discussed and a number of farm men and women will be on the program to give the results of their experience with this problem or that problem.

The evening programs during the week will be especially strong with D. F. Maish of Frankfort and Director G. I. Christie of the Experiment Station to speak the first evening. John G. Brown president of the Indiana Farmers' Federation, and Mrs. Charles W. Sewell of Otterbein, will be the speakers Tuesday evening and Prof. Frank A. Waugh, of Massachusetts Agricultural College, on Wednesday evening. Thursday evening a special entertainment will be given at Power Hall.

In addition to the excellent program, annual meetings of the state organizations of a corn growers, dairymen, home economics members, stockmen, dairy and beef cattle breeders and vegetable growers will be held. The state corn show also

Rumor That Nie-Sheffer Confessed Causing Auburn Tragedy Causes Feeling to Run High

POLICE SAY HE DENIES IT

Auburn, Ind., Jan. 8.—Mystery still surrounds an explosion Thursday night which wrecked the home of J. W. Sheffer, a stock fancier, of this city, and a search for the person responsible for the blast and the death of two children continues. Funeral services for Heber Sheffer, age 26, and Martha Sheffer, age 12, his sister will be held Sunday afternoon at the Methodist Episcopal church in this city.

A rumor today that Nie Sheffer, brother of J. W. Sheffer, who is confined in the Dekalb county jail, had confessed responsibility for the explosion, caused feeling to run high and fears were felt for his safety, but police authorities say he denies all connection with the crime. He has prepared a detailed statement of his actions for the twenty-four hours before and after the explosion in an effort to prove an alibi.

The house is a wreck, the rear end being torn off by the force of the explosion, and the remainder presents a devastated appearance. The loss is estimated at $10,000.

Three clews, that a can resembling a nitroglycerin container, foot prints in the rear of the lot and alleged strange actions of the eccentric brother have been obtained. Walter Imier, a detective of Ft. Wayne, searched the home of Nie Sheffer, in the south part of the town, but failed to find any evidence other than some brass slugs.

TO BLOCK RECONSIDERATION

Supporters of Anti-Strike Bill Counter Moves by Opposition

(By United Press)
Washington, Jan. 8.—Opponents of the Poindexter anti-strike bill today suddenly changed their plans when they learned that the bill's supporters were preparing to block reconsideration. After a conference with other opponents of the bill, Senator LaFollette gave notice that he would call up a reconsideration notice in the senate Monday if the senate business permits. This decision was reached when it was learned that the advocates of the anti-strike legislation were preparing next week to move delay of LaFollette's motion to reconsider it made soon after the bill passed on December 16.

SHOW AT NEW SALEM ATTRACTS BIG CROWD

Awarding of $75 in Cash Prizes Last Thing on Program at Noble Township Meeting

THREE SPEAKERS ON PROGRAM

An unusually large crowd was reported today at the corn show and culinary exhibit which was given by the Noble Township Farmers association and woman's auxiliary at the school building in New Salem. Seventy-five dollars in prizes in the corn and culinary show, were to be awarded as the last thing on the program this afternoon.

At the morning session the principal talks were made by Donald D. Ball, county agricultural agent, on "Corn," and Mrs. Lewis F. Taylor of Indianapolis, wife of the former secretary of the Indiana Federation of Farmers associations. The program opened with the invocation by the Rev. Talmadge Deffrees, pastor of the Little Flatrock Christian church, and included several numbers by the orchestra. It was closed with a prayer by the Rev. Mr. Reardon and a pitch-in dinner was served at noon. At the general session this afternoon, at one o'clock, Frank Beale was to talk on "South America," and the orchestra gave two selections.

At two-fifteen o'clock group meetings for men and women were to be held. Mrs. Taylor was to address the women and the men planned to engage in a general discussion of farm topics.

PIERRE AUTHER AND COMPANION ARE HELD

Descendant of Spanish Nobility and War Hero Making Way to Border With Mrs. Franzen

SUICIDE PACT WAS ARRANGED

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 8.—Paul Pierre Auther, descendant of Spanish nobility and a war hero, and Mrs. Phillip Franzen wife of a Madison, Wisconsin, business man, who were arrested here while eloping to the Mexican border, made a proposition to die together if they could not live together, Mrs. Franzen said in an interview today.

The couple were making their way to the Mexican border and stopped here for the night where Mrs. Franzen's trunk was examined, which resulted in their capture.

When told that Auther had a wife and baby in Illinois, Mrs. Franzen expressed regret over their action.

"I love Pierre and I know that he loves me," said Mrs. Franzen. "I don't feel that we are doing anything wrong. I expect to get a divorce and Pierre will do the same and then we can live together. If further trouble comes up then we two can be together."

The three day honeymoon has been a fight from one place to another, according to Auther. He said they spent Wednesday in Chicago and on Thursday he saw charges against him through the newspapers. "We decided at once that the only thing to do was put as much distance between ourselves and friends, as possible, he said."

LEGISLATORS ARE IDLE OVER SUNDAY

Apparently Awaiting Views of Governor-Elect McCray, They Have Nothing to Talk About

2 QUESTIONS PROVIDE TOPIC

Whether to Continue Coal Commission and Remove State Reformatory From Jeffersonville

(By United Press)
Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 8—This was the last day of Governor Goodrich's term of office. The state departments were pushing things to completion today so as to get the governor's O. K. before he surrenders the reins to the next governor, Warren T. McCray, next Monday.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 8—Apparently awaiting the view of Governor-elect McCray regarding legislation, members of the general assembly, are spending the week-end in this city with little to talk about. Sitting or standing in groups in hotel lobbies, the members had little to talk about, because nothing concrete has been done by either house or senate since they first convened Thursday.

Two questions, however, furnished conversation. The first was whether to continue the special coal and food commission beyond March 31 the date of the legal expiration of that body, and second, whether to follow the recommendations of Governor Goodrich who urged the removal of the state reformatory from Jeffersonville to a more centrally located place.

In connection with the local question, Jesse Eschbach, chairman of the commission, is preparing to report to the legislature next week as to what the commission has done during its existence in regard to regulating prices, distribution of coal and investigation of the food situation. It is expected he will tell the legislature the commission reduced prices of coal to such an extent as to save the people of Indiana more than a million dollars on fuel bills during the winter.

The governor's recommendation for the removal of the reformatory from Jeffersonville, will be the center of a big fight as such a proposal always has been in session before.

Already the people of Jeffersonville are busy trying to prevent such action while an equally strong influence is being brought to bear in the opposite direction.

TONSILS ARE REMOVED

An operation was performed on Noah Webb at the Dr. Frank H. Green hospital this morning for the removal of his tonsils.

Danville, Ind., Jan. 8—Twenty-nine men have been arrested for gambling, two for keeping a gambling house, one for arson and three for permitting minors to play pool, as a result of an investigation by the Hendricks county grand jury.

MODERATE EARTH TREMOR

Washington, Jan. 8.—A "moderate" earthquake disturbance was recorded beginning at 1:40 a. m. today on the seismograph at Georgetown University here. Father Tondorf, director of the observatory, said the indicated distance was 2,400 miles from Washington. The record looked, he said, as though it might be a disturbance within continental United States.

29 INDICTED

There will be preaching both morning and evening Sunday by the Rev. G. I. Hoover at the Glenwood Christian church. Sunday School will be held at the regular hour, 9:30. The following new officers will have charge of the Sunday School at that time: superintendent, Lowell Matney; assistant superintendent, Clarence Carr; secretary, Hugh Dailey; assistant secretary, Marcia Kendall; treasurer, Russell Carr; organist, Miss Edna Ruff; chorister, C. A. Salzer.

Fargo, N. D. Jan. 8—The "Miracle Cow" has been discovered. She is Salome's Carnation, a purebred Jersey, owned by William Page of Hamilton, N. D. She has shattered the high North Dakota record for butterfat production in the two-year-old heifer class. The previous record was 376.16 pounds of fat produced in one year. The new record hung up by Salome's Carnation is for 281 days, or less than nine months. In that time she has produced 401.05 pounds of fat. Salome's Carnation is not getting any more care or feed than any of the other cows in the herd.

BETTER BUSINESS PREDICTED SOON

Canvass of Richmond Manufacturers Indicates Resurgence of Business in a Few Days

CLOSED FOR INVENTORIES

Most Shops Will Resume Monday on 50% Scale and Normal Conditions in Short Time

Richmond, Ind., Jan. 8—Indications that manufacturers of Richmond are expecting better business within a few weeks were apparent from a canvass made Thursday.

With the end of the inventory period in sight, several heads of factories announced that their plants would open with approximately 50 per cent of the normal force within a short time.

Others are already working more than the usual number of men. Although these latter are in a decided minority at present, many manufacturers whose plants are working with only a portion of the normal force expressed their confidence in the outlook for the future.

Figures show that at least 1,500 men are out of employment in 21 concerns in the city. In addition, it is estimated that 500 men are idle through the closing of smaller plants, which responded more readily to industrial depression than some of the larger concerns.

A significant fact was that only one manufacturer expressed a pessimistic view of the situation, while many said that a month or six weeks at most would see a decided improvement.

One manager of a plant which employs 200 men said he expected to be working full force within sixty days.

Another employing nearly 500 men said his plant, which had been closed for some time, would re-open with one-half its normal force Monday.

Another plant which has been closed for the last four months, will re-open next week with one-half its normal force.

Due to the readjustment of economic conditions a number of manufacturers have reduced wages to their workmen. At present such plants as are operating in this city are working from eight to ten hours per day.

An index to the situation is the fact that only about 30 out of 80 boys under 16 years of age, who are employed in this city, in normal times are working now.

Woodworking shops in the city are affected in no small degree by the attitude of the Chicago furniture market. Several manufacturers are awaiting the decision of Chicago furniture trade authorities which will be given out after a meeting to be held soon, before taking any definite action toward reopening their plants.

In general, it may be said, that as far as possible employers in Richmond are carrying their employees on a part time basis, even though it means a temporary loss in order to be sure that their organizations will remain intact for the resumption of business.

ONLY 3 BEDS FOR 53 ORPHAN CHILDREN

New York, Jan. 6—Fifty-three children in three beds is the orphanage record to date in eastern Europe, where a third of the child population is fatherless and motherless, as the result of the war. Of course, fifty-three children could not actually occupy three beds, but that was all that was available in one orphanage in a factory town west of Warsaw. Naturally, most of the fifty-three had to sleep on the floor, whether they were well or, as it was in most instances, ill.

"But this was not the worst hardship the little ones suffered," reported the relief worker who discovered their plight. "They were on the verge of starvation. When I was there they had not had a full ration of bread for three weeks. More than half of them, also, were tuberculous, for under-nutrition is fast producing a race of consumptives in Poland."

To overcome this situation so far as may be and care for countless thousands of other suffering children in Europe, eight great American relief agencies have combined under the name of the "European Relief Council" in an appeal for $35,000,000 to carry on the work already begun for their rescue from a winter of horror.

BABYS UNDER YEAR OLD ONLY MAY HAVE BATH

Vienna Babies Taken to Relief Station Run by European Relief Council For Hot Bath

SCARCITY OF WOOD CAUSE

New York, Jan. 8.—Only babies under a year old may have a bath in Vienna, according to a report received at the headquarters of the European Relief Council here. The cost of wood is so high that it precludes use of hot water at home, so the babies are taken to one of the relief stations run by the European Relief Council and there obtain both hot baths and milk.

The Government-controlled price of milk is twenty-eight and fifty-four kronen a tin and with the reduced purchasing power of Austrian currency this price is so prohibitive that only the wealthy can afford to give babies condensed milk. No parent, no matter how great his influence, can obtain milk for his baby after it is two and a half years old—the age set by the Austrian Government for putting babies on a solid food diet. Milk is so scarce in the Central Empires that only invalids and the babes in arms are allowed to have it. The bread supplied is fifty percent maize flour, which is so rotten when it reaches Austria that it sets up pellagra disease and Vienna is suffering from an epidemic of stomach troubles and skin eruptions. Asylums, hospitals and feeding stations for the children are running under the auspices of the European Relief Council.

POLAND BETWEEN TWO MILESTONES

While Bolsheviks Prepare Attack on East Germans Also Are Waging Economic Offensive

ALLIES AID THE COUNTRY

Mighty Coalition of Entente Aimed at Preventing Junction of Germany and Russia

By LLOYD ALLEN, (U. P. Staff Correspondent) Warsaw (By Mail)—While the Bolsheviks are massing red divisions on Poland's Eastern frontier, preparing another crushing military offensive—the Germans on the East are waging an economic offensive that has devalued Polish money.

Poland is between two terrible milestones threatened with national extinction. Without American and entente aid the country would long since have ceased to exist. America is feeding 900,000 Polish children every day.

England is aiding Poland's political offensive against powerful enemies (mainly Russia and Germany) while France has provided the military officials that are the backbone of Poland's general staff.

This mighty coalition of Entente and American force is aimed at preventing the annihilation of Poland and the junction of Germany and Russia. When the Polish block is removed, the German-Russian combination will shatter Europe's peace, according to general belief.

Such a combination would form the world's first great inland empire, Germany furnishing the munitions and organizing genius, while Russia would contribute from her unlimited manpower, totalling 180,000,000. Such a condition could exist indefinitely without a great naval fleet.

German methods of undercutting the Polish economic situation are very definite and efficient. Berlin has made a drive against the Polish mark. Today the Polish mark is worth 680 to the dollar. A year ago the rate was 200 to the dollar. Right now the mark is worth about one seventh of a cent, when its official value should be twenty cents.

Three schemes are being employed in this desperate onslaught directed from Berlin. First the Germans charge Poland one third more for German coal than the same coal costs in Germany. Scheme Two is a direct violation of the peace treaty. Germany simply refuses to sell Poland machinery and supplies for rebuilding Poland's greatest industry, the textile mills, mainly located at Lodz, which were destroyed by Germans during the war.

The third method is purely financial. Polish marks hoarded for more than a year are being dumped at bargain counter prices on the great currency market of Zurich, Switzerland.

Meanwhile Warsaw is most chaotic; no one knows what their money is really worth. You price a hat in one of the shops in the morning and may be told the price is 2000 marks. In the afternoon the price is 3000 marks. Everything is topsy turvy. Everyone whose fortune is made up of Polish marks has lost seventy-five percent of their savings through depreciation of the national currency.

Laboring people all over Poland find it impossible to live. Numerous strikes are reported daily. Social demoralization is general. Germany's economic offensive has proven a huge success.

However, there is a ray of hope. The Polish cabinet realizes the danger of the situation and the new Ministers of Finance and of Commerce and Labor, Steczkowski and Pranowski, are elaborating far reaching reforms. The big Polish banks are cooperating.

It's all part of the big problem of fighting the German-Russian hostility.

Red Cross Service

Rush county people who passed by the Red Cross appeal for membership when it was made last December, may regret some day that they neglected this call for service because no one knows when disaster may strike, nor where it may strike.

It is only when disaster comes that the Red Cross is appreciated. It is then that members of the Red Cross are proud to be a part of an organization which is able to save human life because of its preparation to render relief quickly and effectively.

The kind of relief the Red Cross gives, which has been strikingly demonstrated in times of flood, fire and tornado, was again brought into play following a fire at Sidney, Shelby county, Ohio, in which a two-year-old child lost its life and three families were made homeless.

Starting at 6 o'clock in the morning, the fire destroyed two homes, sheltering three families, within an hour. Among the fire victims who were forced to flee from their flame-swept homes in scant night attire were seven children.

By 7 o'clock the local officials of the Red Cross were on the job. Immediate arrangements were made with the neighbors to care for the homeless families and by night the seven destitute children had been completely outfitted from head to foot.

The Red Cross chapter workers enlisted sewing clubs in the community in the plight of the fire victims with the result that before the end of the week the families had been provided with pillows, sheets and other home necessities.

A physician provided by the Red Cross attended one of the fire sufferers who had been seriously burned.

This Red Cross chapter now has an emergency supply of clothing for children up to nine years so that it is ready for any future emergency.

Membership in the American Red Cross enables that great organization of mercy and relief to stretch out its hand in all such disasters as the one at Sidney.

Disaster may strike at your door at any time. You'll then appreciate the aid of the Red Cross.

Are you doing your share to maintain this great service?

A woman art critic of Richmond has filed a petition in the circuit court to enjoin the Richmond board of works from closing an old unused roadway, all of which leads one to wonder how it is possible to work up any artistic enthusiasm over a poor, old, unkempt road.

THE TREND of LEGISLATION

By GEO. W. STOUT
State Chamber of Commerce

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 8.—Indiana faces a large building program which also is a problem. Gov. James P. Goodrich, in his farewell message, points out the needs of the state institutions. It is for the Legislature to plan and provide for extensive construction conditioned upon the future adjustment of construction costs. Gov. Goodrich suggests that prices are now going down and emphasizes the demand for active building operations of the State.

In the war period all building was halted save emergency construction. During the years since the armistice costs have gone upward beyond the war peak, but now are on the down trend, and Gov. Goodrich asserts in his message that much construction may be put through in the ensuing four years with no increase in the tax levy for state purposes.

He points out some improvements that are sorely needed, and the list is certainly an imposing one. A program of building that would put the state up among the leaders in accelerating the anticipated and necessary building movement of the near future. What with this proposed, and apparently essential building work by the State; necessary construction by municipalities and counties; matters long deferred; and the great mileage of highway construction projected in Indiana, it would appear that public works in general are to be a considerable factor in the economic readjustments that lie ahead.

There will be a hearty response to the call for proper additions to the hospitals for the insane. It is pointed out that these institutions should be enlarged to care for 1,500 persons who now lack the State's guardianship. The lodging of insane persons in jails and poor houses has, long been a serious reflection upon the commonwealth. This housing item, along with the removal and reconstruction of the reformatory which in any event must be rebuilt since the big fire and the construction of the Buttrick colony for the feeble-minded, along with hospital additions and the completion of buildings at the epileptic village, constitutes an imposing array to be considered by the legislature in the light of existing and prospective economic conditions.

Then there are proposed extensions strongly urged on behalf of the educational institutions controlled by the State. Everybody agrees that the three state schools ought to be enabled not only to extend their activities so as to care for the steadily increasing demand, which continues to exceed capacity each year, but those educational institutions obviously ought to be able to retain high class instructors essential to the maintenance of the Indiana standard of first class education.

Already the law-makers are contemplating the building needs of the State and at the same time are studying costs as at present made up. One legislator, for example, in discussing the building program, suggested that in view of the fact that the cost of placing brick in the wall had increased 362 percent in recent years, labor cost going upward while efficiency had fallen off 51 percent with other items more or less in extravagant proportion, it may be wise to enter carefully into building plans with a view to conditioning some of the construction upon reasonable readjustments in the cost department.

However, there is a pretty general

feeling that with the spring opening the construction business, along with many other lines of industry and activity will have arrived at a basis of reason and progress following the period of mounting costs and consequent stagnation.

There will be lively interest in Governor-elect McCray's message as that message may touch on the building needs of the State. It is well known that the appeal to Gov. McCray's humanitarian side in behalf of the unfortunate insane, feeble-minded and epileptic wards of the State is sure to get a warm response with all possible practical and constructive effort on his part. The educational interests are confident also that the incoming executive will be sympathetic and in accord with the urgent suggestion that the state schools and educators, and the youth of the commonwealth obtain the support they need.

Those who are concerned on behalf of the state schools are pleased by the announcement that Representative Otto G. Fifield of Crown Point is to serve as chairman of the house ways and means committee—the committee which has charge of appropriations. This responsibility carries with it the majority floor leadership in the house. Mr. Fifield succeeds to the ways and means chairmanship logically, as he has just served on the legislative visiting committee appointed in advance of the session to ascertain the needs of state institutions of all sorts.

The Fifield appointment is acceptable to the business men in country and city alike, and is in accord with the executive department's ideas of fitness and capacity for service. Mr. Fifield is a graduate of Purdue university, and has succeeded on the farm and in business. His leadership qualifications already have been demonstrated in the house.

One of the interesting suggestions made by Gov. Goodrich will arouse discussion on all sides. The plan to consolidate the Indiana Reformatory and the State Penal Farm at the latter place, Putnamville, the new plant to be erected with inmate labor so far as that can be done, failed of adoption at the 1919 session. It remains to be seen whether Gov. Goodrich's arguments in favor of the change will impress the present session more forcibly than they did the 1919 body. No doubt the supporters of both sides of this proposition will supply material for extended comments as the session proceeds.

The Goodrich farewell message makes a point which the average taxpayer will probably take close to heart at this time. On the matter of salary increases for public officers, the message says: "It has never yet been found possible to decrease the statutory salary or compensation of anyone engaged in the public service." In other words once an increase is allowed by law, the public salary thus enlarged will continue at the high scale, regardless of ordinary business or industry under private direction. With adjustments now going on in prices, costs, salaries and wages, Gov. Goodrich argues that the law-makers, on behalf of the people, should scrutinize with care all requests for increases in the pay of public officers. At the same time he rightly holds for just compensation based on recognition of ability, talent and honest service.

The Peddler Nuisance

(Newcastle Courier)

We often hear of peddlers and traveling magazine solicitors who find easy and ready victims among Newcastle people, who would turn down a person selling the same thing and whom they have known many years.

A few years ago an alleged magazine solicitor dropped into town from Muncie and in a few hours gathered in fourteen real American dollars, which was not a bad afternoon's work. He called on sixteen people and only two of them refused to put up the cash for the magazine. And he hadn't a single scrap of paper or the scratch of a pen from the publishers of the magazine to show that he was their authorized and accredited agent.

The police were put next to this solicitor's game and he very promptly surrendered his fake receipt book and the fourteen dollars. But there are undoubtedly many more such solicitors about whom the police never hear.

The Courier knows of at least two local magazine solicitors, who are the accredited representatives of the publications they sell. Both are invalids and incapable of hard work, and they are worthy in every way. Yet it would take either of them a week to secure as many dollars as did this strange solicitor in a few hours.

And still another case of buying from peddlers has come to The Courier's attention. The victim told it on himself in the hope that the stinging he got will be an example to others.

A day or two before Christmas a man with a big basket of oranges went down one of the city's best residential streets, peddling his wares at forty cents a dozen—five cents cheaper than the stores downtown were selling them. The man who tells it on himself bought a dozen of the oranges, paid his money and has not seen the peddler since. Three of the dozen oranges proved to be too ripe to eat, and the other nine had been frozen and were not palatable.

Here are two recent cases of buying from strange peddlers and in each the purchasers were stung with no chance of a come-back. Had the man who bought the oranges gone to his home store and purchased the fruit and found some of it overripe or frost-bitten, he would have promptly returned it to the grocer, who would either have replaced the spoiled fruit or given the man his money back. As it is he has no recourse on the peddler, who has never been seen since.

The next time a magazine solicitor calls on you and asks for cash, require him to show his credentials from the publishers. If he cannot do so, call police headquarters and report him. And the next time a peddler calls at your house, ask him or her to show a city license. If he or she has none, call police headquarters and report the peddler. All good citizens can help in this way.

RUSHVILLE TEAMS GET AN EVEN BREAK

High School Varsity Defeats Liberty
Using Substitutes Most of Game,
38 to 14

SECOND TEAM IS DEFEATED

Brownsville Plays Locals Overtime
Game, Winning 16 to 14—Con-
test is a Thriller

The Liberty high school basketball team dropped another game last night to the local high school, at the Graham Annex gymnasium, the final count being 38 to 14. The Brownsville high won out over the second team from Rushville, in a five minute overtime contest, 14 to 14.

The local team did not have to exert itself in order to win and three substitutes played in the place of regulars mostly during the game.

The three substitutes started the game for Rushville and the first fifteen minutes Liberty was held to a 13 to 6 count, and then in the last five minutes of play, in this half the three regulars were placed in the line up and the score ended at the first half 19 to 6.

The last half also was started with the substitutes and the score continued to pile up. When the score was 37 to 11, Rushville slowed down and the visitors made their three points which brought them up to 14.

Referee Evans called a foul on Liberty just as the final whistle blew and Eakins made the last marker for Rushville on the four point, which he threw at the close of the game.

The three substitutes, Reynolds and Phillips at forward and Davis at center, played in good form, and deserve a great deal of credit. The two forwards especially were good on hitting the basket, and Davis had his hands full in following Thompson the tall blonde for Liberty, who made all of the visitors points, except two.

Coch Sutton will probably start the regular line up tonight in the game against Fortville, and this team will no doubt furnish better opposition than the Liberty team.

The visitors last night never gave up their fighting spirit and stayed in the game all of the time. The team worked around Thompson, and he was the shining star for the visitors. He had an eye for the basket and all points that he made were from a distance. He was off form on foul goals, but made 12 of the 14 points for his team.

Reynolds, substitute forward for Rushville, showed up well, and no doubt will make someone on the team in order to keep his position. Reynolds also has the ability to make foul shots, and made good three out of four chances.

Eakins, who played most of the last half, was not compelled to play hard. He also made three foul shots out of six chances.

The two Headlee brothers were in the game together, and during the short time that they played, each of them were point getters and managed to put "pop" in things. Frazee did not have his hands full last night, as in former games, but was in the entire game, and played consistently.

Miller was back in uniform last night, and played the entire game. While he was credited with only one basket, he had many chances but allowed others on the team to take part in the scoring.

The most exciting contest of the two games, was the curtain raiser between the first team from Brownsville and the local second team. The game was almost an even break from beginning to end, and the first half ended 7 to 7. In the last half the two teams worked hard to break the tie, but the whistle blew as Nipp, for Brownsville, again tied up the score with a foul goal, 13 to 13.

Five minutes overtime was decided upon to play, and each team scored another point on foul goals, and just about a minute before the overtime was up, Brownsville threw the win-

CARTHAGE IN PRELIMINARY

Will Meet Seconds Here Tonight
Previous to Fortville Game

The Carthage high school second team will compete tonight to play the local second team as a preliminary game to the Rushville-Fortville contest. The Carthage team has won a greater portion of their games this year and are coming with the expectation of winning the game. The local team has lost two games straight and will make a big endeavor tonight to get back in the winning column again.

The preliminary game will begin at 7:15. The Fortville team will come this afternoon and are said to have a strong team. Although Milroy defeated them recently, the exact strength of the team cannot be determined by the victory which they won, of the floor at Milroy.

One Thousand Five-Man Teams Will
Try For Championship

Buffalo, Jan. 8.—One thousand five-man teams from the United States, Canada and Mexico will compete for $40,000 in prize money to be distributed in the 1921 American Bowling Congress tournament, which is to be held here February 28 to March 31. Secretary A. L. Langtry, of the A. B. C., at a recent meeting here, said he will obtain 600 teams from the United States, Canada and Mexico; Buffalo will probably supply 40 teams.

Sixteen alleys will be in use day and night for the tournament. There is great enthusiasm all over the country, and especially in the west, for the tournament, Langtry said. Chicago, alone expects to furnish 100 five-man teams, Langtry said.

MILROY ROMPS OVER MORRISTOWN QUINTET

Rush County Team Experiences Little
Trouble in Beating Shelby
County Team

FINAL COUNT WAS 68 TO 18

Morristown high school and all of its boasting about taking the scalp of Milroy resulted disastrously for the Shelby county team last night, when they went down into defeat, 68 to 18, on the floor at Milroy.

Milroy started in piling up the score soon after the game opened, and they registered 16 points before the visiting team had even a chance at the basket. The first period saw Milroy comfortably leading 35 to 8.

Stewart was the shining star on the basket, and made 13 field goals, while McKee followed with 10. Osterling, the center, made 8 field goals; B. Jones, floor guard, made 3; and Cowan, back guard, was credited with a field goal. Stewart also made two foul goals.

Morristown was unable to head off the attack of Milroy, and was given the worst defeat of this season. In a curtain raiser, the Milroy second team also romped over the Glenwood team, 48 to 12.

Milroy high school's next game is with Westport at that place next Friday, and this game should also be an easy victory.

THIRD CONSECUTIVE IN NEW RALEIGH GYM

High School Team Trims Lewisville
Friday Night, Shooting of Forwards Being Feature

FINAL SCORE IS 29 TO 15

The Raleigh high school basketball team defeated Lewisville Friday night, 29 to 15, making the third consecutive victory for the Raleigh five in its new gymnasium.

The defensive work of the Raleigh quintet and the goal shooting of Poer and Laughlin, Raleigh forwards, were features of the game. Hall, Lewisville guard, showed up best for the visitors both at guarding, and on the offensive.

Fisher played the first half for Raleigh at forward, but Laughlin, the regular forward, went in the last half and proved a whirlwind. The two teams lined up as follows:

Raleigh (29) Lewisville (15)
Fisher, F. Martin
Poer, F. Lane
Craig, C. Parker
Hyatt, G. Hall
Ertle, G. Showalter
Substitutions—Laughlin for Fisher.

MOSCOW HIGH IS SWAMPED

Defeated at Carthage Friday Night
by Score of 55 to 11

Carthage high school had little trouble last night in walking away from the Moscow high school team at Carthage, the final count being 55 to 11. Moscow played good ball in the first half, but was overpowered in the last period by the Carthage team. The first half ended 14 to 7. Heathcock, center for Carthage, made sixteen field goals. Preliminary games were played between two girls' teams and the second high school team and the eighth grade teams.

Connersville will play at Carthage next Wednesday night.

SLIGHT CHANGES IN COLLEGE BALL

Big Ten Conference Makes a Change in Basketball Rule Concerning Dribbling

HIGH SCHOOLS NOT AFFECTED

Conference Also Makes Other Minor
Changes Which Probably Won't
Affect "Prep" Schools

BY HEEZE CLARK
(Written for United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 8.—Important events are occurring in the basketball world, which are of such interest to the followers of the great indoor sport that whole columns are devoted to them in the newspapers. They happen so often and in so many parts of the state that the Hoosier basketball fans can hardly remember them all.

But there is one important thing that has not been touched by more than a few writers. It was the meeting early in December at Chicago where the officials, coaches and representatives of the Big Ten conference colleges met to discuss the basketball rules. What the Big Ten conference colleges rule, the other colleges agree to and the interpretation put on the rules at that meeting for reaching in all parts of Indiana, every college basketball team being affected.

Many of the leading athletic clubs and independent teams always follow the rules as laid down by the conference but it appears that some of these rulings or rather interpretations of basketball rules will not meet with favor among the high schools and will not be approved or used in prep school games.

The dribble rule, ever since the days when there were college rules and A. A. U. basketball rules published under separate covers, always was a matter on which there was division of opinions, but a few years ago all factions got together and adopted the college style of dribble which made the game lots faster. However the rules committee took a step backwards this year in ruling out the one step at the start of a dribble which slows the game. The new ruling made by the conference and supplanting the one in the rule book is pleasing the basketball fans.

The other rulings or interpretations have to do with naming the official goal, the weight of the basketball which must be 21 to 22 ounces and other similar ones. It might interest basketball players to put their new basketballs on a scale and see if the ball meets the regulation requirements in weight and size.

Manilla High School Nosed Out by
Connersville Friday Night

The Connersville high school and the Manilla high school teams staged a royal battle last night at Blue Ridge, when the Fayette county team nosed out Manilla by a lone point, 20 to 19. The game was an exciting affair from start to finish, and Manilla was confident that they could beat Connersville, had the game been played on the Manilla floor. The basement of the school building was under water, and the game had to be played at Blue Ridge, and because of the rain, Manilla was not given any support by the basketball fans.

ZIONIST COMING TO U.S.

Dr. Weizmann to Attend Convention

(By United Press)
New York, Jan. 8.—Dr. Chaim Weizmann, leader of world Zionism, is coming to this country the early part of February, according to a cable received by the Zionist Organization of America. Dr. Weizmann will land in Canada about January 30, and after attending the convention of the Federated Zionist Societies of Canada, he will be met in Montreal by officers of the Zionist Organization of America.

This is Dr. Weizmann's first visit to this country, and Zionists are hailing his coming with the greatest satisfaction. Dr. Weizmann made possible the Balfour Declaration making Palestine the Jewish homeland.

Definite arrangements have not yet been made for Dr. Weizmann's tour of the country, but it is expected that he will be able to visit all the large cities while he is here. I yu, b, t, o, i, y, o, W, (00

New York Society Apes The Stage

By "MARJORIE" (Written for United Press)

New York, Jan. 8—Grand Opera devotees are wondering if a new order of things has decreed that the opulent stage costumes shall be worn by audience and not the star and chorus. With a season of metallic laces, gorgeous, brocades, and Oriental knickknacks, The Diamond Horseshoe and even the balconies above it seem garbed a la masquerade fully as much as the great stage itself.

Far-fetched as it may seem, also, it is clearly noted that the garb of the audience changes according to the opera, as it tries to be in harmony with the style, period and coloring upon the stage.

Thus, on the nights when capers about as the vampish and gorgeous Carmen the Opera House glows with a bevy of gay scarlet and crimson gowns, brocaded mantles of rich red velvets, flecked with stripes of gold, and feather headpieces as brilliant as ever graced an Injun's scalplock.

The more mystic Wagnerian Operas call forth an audience clad in rather pastel raiment. Lavenders, cool greens and blues, and much white and black characterizes the dress of the feminine audience. Fewer jewels are worn than on French or Italian Opera Nights, and headpieces are fashioned of spun gold or silver to resemble the Valkyries' helmets.

Never has there been a better year for this society game of "Keeping Up With the Stage". Fashion decrees that evening costume shall be as luxuriant, bizarre, and colorful as possible. The early autumn vogue for midnight velvets has been uttered by the midseason vogue for dazzling color in brocades, satins, velvets and laces.

Most of the gowns depend upon material for effect, and trimmings are woven right into the fabric. The clinging, princess type of gown is most in favor with both flapper and matron. Recent operas have brought forth an audience wearing a new peacock blue. Every box in the charmed circle contained at least one gown in this shade. Many of them were of heavy-napped velvets, but gold and silver-striped brocades were in the lead.

Debutantes shun the pretty pink, blue, yellow and green tulle creations of yester Opera Year and choose white velvets, crystal cloths, or crystal embroidered nets. American beauty velvet cut a la princess with slippers to match and silver hose is a favored combination of this season. This is the color that the debutante and young miss chooses most frequently for her evening wrap, also. If the wrap is of fur instead of a silk or velvet, it is generally white chinchilla or ermine lined, with shirred American beauty satin.

Wraps, by the way, are the big thing in evening costume this year. Many of the best dressed women wear their gorgeous wraps throughout entire performances, and have their slippers and headpieces match the wrap, rather than the gown beneath. They are hardly necessary for warmth, as might have been the case last year, for the "bare back" dress is very passe, and this year it is only sleeves that are minus while a covered throat is considered very chic, indeed.

The carriage line draws as many ogles this year as the stage entrance, for the Oriental-colored wraps of rich brocades and lustrous satins, the glittering tiaras and gorgeous feather combs, jeweled slippers, and priceless petrie make such a sight as even the Opera crowd has not presented for some years back.

"The New York Idea," Princess

"The New York Idea," featuring Alice Brady, and "His Noisy Still," a Shubert comedy, are the offerings at the Princess today, and Monday William S. Hart comes in "The Toll Gate," a border romance.

The New York idea is to marry for whim and divorce for the same reason, in other words divorce in haste and repent at leisure. As the capricious heroine, Cynthia Karslake, Miss Brady has something nearer a comedy role than her previous. Real art pictures have afforded her though she brings her well-known emotional ability into play more than once. Throughout the picture she wears sumptuous clothes, as do the other women of the cast, as well as several hundred extras who are used for ball room, wedding, and race track scenes. Aside from the plot the film would have interested merely as a picture of New York society.

Belmont Park race track on Long Island, The Piping Rock Hunt Club and other favorite haunts of the idle rich are used as backgrounds for the unfolding of the story, which abounds in divorces—which may be said to make it an accurate picture of smart society.

"The Birth of a Race," Mystic

Direct from a long and successful run in Chicago, the big photoplay, "The Birth of a Race" comes to the Mystic Theatre on Monday and Tuesday.

This great drama of the films was in preparation for more than two years and employed the services of the best scenario writers, most competent actors, clever directors, and most efficient photographers that could be secured and in addition it has been supplied with a descriptive music score, composed by Joseph Brail, who wrote the famous accompaniments for "The Birth of a Nation" and "Intolerance". An augmented orchestra also comes as a special musical feature.

The theme of this wonderful drama is the story of peace, of democracy, of brotherhood. It traces the history of world advancement from the Garden of Eden to the dawn of peace, in the present year of our Lord. It is one of the most graphic history of world advancement for the enlightenment entertainment of the people. Perhaps no great photoplay has ever been prepared with more earnest care, more historical research, more truth and eager effort for dramatic effect than "The Birth of a Race." No lover of unusual pictures should miss the opportunity of seeing this production.

WORK TO REQUIRE FORTY AMERICANS
All Donations Must be Given Over by Inspectors and Assigned to Localities.
100,000 NATIVE WORKERS
Handling of Foodstuffs and Clothing For European Children, is Planned Systematically

Chicago, Jan. 7.—Only forty Americans will be required to handle the distribution of the thousands of tons of foodstuffs to 3,500,000 undernourished children of Eastern and Central Europe this winter, according to the program of the European Relief Council of which Herbert Hoover is chairman. The detail of all transportation and cooking of food, the examination and reexamination of the children, the local administrative work, is carried on by the local native committees; many of the members of which are volunteer. The native workers number more than 100,000.

It will take every week this winter 3944 metric tons of American foodstuffs, or nearly nine million pounds. This will provide these children with one meal each day. A "meal" is somewhat less than a half a pound of food and it is furnished only six days in the week, no kitchen being open on Sunday. The total cost, for that thirty-four weeks until the next harvest, of furnishing more than 134,000 tons of foodstuffs will be $23,000,000.

The food is of the plainest and includes such staples as cocoa, sugar, condensed milk, flour, beans, rice and lard. The cost to the European Relief Council of a single meal is approximately three cents, while it is estimated that one dollar will feed a child for a month and ten dollars will feed him until next harvest. The child feeding can be done for this small sum, the food bought, sent over, distributed, cooked and fed to the children, because for every dollar contributed in America, the foreign governments give two dollars, furnishing the transportation, the warehousing facilities, the kitchens, the personnel, and all other details necessary to translate the raw food in America into warm, noon-day dinners for the starved children.

Eight charitable organizations in this country have united to keep open the feeding stations in Austria, Hungary, Czechoslovakia and Poland. They are the American Relief Administration, the American Red Cross, the American Friends Service Committee (Quakers), the Federated Council of Churches of Christ in America, the Jewish Joint Distribution Committee, the Knights of Columbus, the Y. M. C. A., and the Y. W. C. A. A total of $33,000,000 is sought in the United States, $23,300,000 for the child feeding program and $10,000,000 for medical attention to several million little sufferers from the diseases of malnutrition.

Franklin K. Lane is treasurer at headquarters, 42 Broadway, New York.

NAME COMMITTEE TO PRESS BILLS

Indiana Department of American Legion to Work For Bills in Which They Are Interested

TO MEET IN CITY MONDAY

Press Two Bills—One For State Control Over Boxing and The Other is Free Registration

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 8.—I. R. Gignalliat, commander of the Indiana Department of the American Legion, has appointed a legislative committee for the department, who will work for the passage of bills in which the Legion is interested at the session of the legislature.

The following have been appointed: George Cunningham, Evansville; Don McKahan, Martinsville; W. H. McCormack, Bedford; Otto W. Englehart, Brazil; J. P. Goodwin, Brookville; Arthur R. Robinson, Indiana Trust Bldg., Indianapolis; Geo. Healey, Frankfort; Floyd Murray, Hammond; Frank McHale, Logansport; Dr. John Galpin, Ft. Wayne; A. E. Lonn, Laporte.

These men will meet in Indianapolis Monday, when they will select a chairman and lay the plans of their campaign.

The Legion is pressing two bills, especially. The first would provide for state control over boxing, and would legalize the sport in the state. The other would provide free registration by county recorders of honorable discharge for all service men.

The boxing bill would create a state athletic commission, which would issue permits for all contests and besides require all promoters to take out licenses. The board would have the power to fix rules and regulations for all contests. Boxers would be required to register with the commission before they could participate in a bout. License fees would range from $50 for cities of the fifth class to $300 for cities of the first class. A representative of the commission would be required to attend all bouts. A special tax of 8 per cent of the gross receipts of any bout would be fixed, the receipts to go into the state treasury.

No bout could be more than 15 rounds, and boxing gloves used could weigh not less than 5 ounces each. The bill would not permit any person under 18 years old to take part in a bout, and no one under 16 could attend a contest.

The bill would prevent smoking in the room where bouts were to be held.

LABOR MOVING BACK TO FARM, SAYS BRYANT

With Readjustment Period at Hand Much Labor That Was Lured to City Has Begun to Return

FARM WAGES ATTRACTIVE

By GEORGE BRYANT
Field Agent, Department Agriculture
(Written for United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 8.—With the readjustment period at hand in the large industrial centers and curtailment of expenses all along the line, including railroads, much of the labor that was lured from farms to secure high wages prevailing in cities, has begun to return, and practically all agricultural districts now have a surplus of farm labor although there is no great demand for it at this season of the year. Farm wages, however, are quite as attractive as those paid in cities, being approximately $3 a day with board and $60 a month without board, where hired by the month. In the case of single men working by the month they have additional compensation in the way of laundry and keep for a horse, etc. Married men have house rent, garden plot and keep for cow, chickens, etc., and some time an allowance of meat, in addition to the cash wage. The increase in farm wages, over the pre-war period, is somewhat more than double, with not much prospect of a decline, although the value of nearly all farm products has dropped more than 50 percent during the past few months.

or both installments will become delinquent and subject to a penalty.

The Second Installment must be paid on or before the
FIRST MONDAY IN NOVEMBER, 1921

No tax receipts will be held out until taxes are paid in full.

Extracts From the Statutes of Indiana.

That each person or taxpayer charged with taxes on a duplicate in the hands of a County Treasurer may pay the full amount of such taxes on or before the first Monday in May, or may at his option pay one-half thereof on or before the first Monday in May, and the remaining half on or before the first Monday in November, in the manner prescribed by law. All road taxes to be added to the first installment.

When the first installment is not paid prior to the first Monday in May, the taxes for the whole year become delinquent. The Treasurer will not be responsible for the penalty and charges on delinquent taxes resulting from any omission of the person paying to state definitely on what property, in whose name and in what township or corporation it was assessed.

Persons owing delinquent taxes should pay them at once. The late law is of such character that there is no option left the Treasurer but to enforce the collection of delinquent taxes, however much he may regret to collect the same, by sale of property.

The owner of the property on the first day of March in any year, shall be liable for the payment of all taxes of that year. The purchaser of property on the first day of March shall be considered as owner on that day—Sec. 103.

All property, both personal and real, situated in any county shall be liable for the taxes, penalties, interests and costs to the owners thereof in such county, and no partial payment of such taxes, penalties, interests or costs shall discharge or release any part or portion of such property until the whole is paid, which lien shall in no wise be affected or destroyed by any sale or transfer of any such personal property.—Sec. 644, R. S.

The Treasurer has no option in rebating the penalty on taxes allowed to go delinquent. No County Order will be paid to persons owing delinquent taxes and all parties are warned against buying the same.

The Annual Sale of Delinquent Lands and Lots will take place on the Second Monday in February, 1921.

PARTICULAR ATTENTION

TAXPAYERS SHOULD EXAMINE THEIR RECEIPTS before leaving the Treasurer's office and see that they are correct. Those who have lands or other property in more than one township, must see that they have a receipt for all.

CHARLES A. FRAZEE,
Treasurer of Rush County.
